

East Cleveland Public Library Use of Personal Technology

Personal Communication or Entertainment Devices

Items such as, but not limited to, cellular phones, personal computers, portable listening devices, hand-held game consoles, pagers, and radios, should be kept at a volume that does not disturb other customers or staff in the library. Headphones or similar equipment should be used by customers who wish to listen to broadcast or recorded materials inside the library. Cell phone users are asked to turn ringers off and to converse quietly and briefly on them while inside the Library.

Public Wireless Internet Access

The Library provides free, unsecured, wireless Internet access for public use. The Library does not provide technical support for privately owned personal wireless devices. Security for personal wireless devices rests solely with the owner of the wireless device. Personal use of the library's public wireless access will conform to policies regulating other types of public Internet access provided by the library. Printing is not available via the Library's wireless service.

Customers are prohibited from using the Library's wireless Internet access to display text or graphics that may be considered obscene or harmful to minors, pursuant to state and local laws.

Electricity

A limited number of electrical outlets are available near several seating areas, and patrons are welcome to plug in their laptops or other personal electronic devices. However, power cords and other cables may not obstruct traffic, seating, or tables.

The East Cleveland Public Library is not responsible for loss of data or damage to personal equipment that may result from the use of its electrical outlets.
