Student Life
Yes, Shaw High is worth being checked out this year for a number of reasons. Shaw is a very unique school with distinguishable characteristics: student life, its people, the sports, other extracurriculars. These are just a few of the different areas in which Shaw stands out from other schools.

Student life at Shaw includes fashion, hangouts, jobs and life after 3:25. Students at Shaw always dress to impress. They wear nifty outfits that make them stand tall among the rest. Usually, Shaw students hang out in one big bunch, either at someone’s house or at the mall, shopping. Life after 3:25 includes work for some, homework, household chores, or just resting from a long school day for others.

The people at Shaw are what make Shaw special. The seniors, juniors, sophomores and freshmen unite to make one big family. Almost everyone knows everyone else which makes getting along with others easier. They enjoy socializing between classes. They are high spirited and will support their school to the maximum.

Shaw 32 — Heights 14! We win again! Shaw excels in football, basketball, track, volleyball, swimming, wrestling and baseball. We have top teams in all these sports. They are always supported and encouraged to win.

There are many clubs and organizations that are at Shaw. Many of them are educational and fun. They strive to get the students involved outside of the classroom setting. Our speech and theater department is a state leader.

Included with all these aspects that revolve around Shaw, academics are still our first priority. The staff and administration are trained to focus on the student and make sure each student gets his/her fair chance at an excellent education.

Shaw is truly worth being checked out this year for many reasons. As you read on, I’m sure you will agree.
Check This Out . . .
Check Out the Diversity

As in years gone by, Shaw has had quality as well as class. We, the Shuttle Yearbook staff of 1989, feel you should check us out further before you depart and flow into the future. In order for you to do so, you will have to “Check Out” the remainder of this yearbook. This book has many memories for Shaw High. We gathered them all and put them into a book for you. Shaw holds a future for anyone who aspires to one. Those who do, deserve to be checked out.

Shaw students are vibrant, diversified and, above all, special. You can’t make a judgment of them in one glance. As our theme implies, you have got to get to know them and check them out.

This book shares the good times and the sad times which occurred at Shaw and in the world in ’89. It not only focuses on seniors, but it lets you see all of our school.

When the staff considered a theme for the book, we wanted one which would make you look at our school and get your attention. From our cover to our close we hope you will “Check Out” Shaw High, its students and its life. If you strive to be an achiever and you hope to succeed — Good Luck to you! But before you leave us and go on — take a minute to “Check This Out”

Checkin' Out the Hangouts
Cardinals "Flock" All Over!

Shaw students would hang out at a variety of places in the Cleveland area. Some of their favorite places were right on the Shaw High campus. They included the Tech and vocational cafeterias as well as Korb Lounge. The two most popular places to hang out were Korb and, when weather permitted, the courtyard. Students would turn the courtyard into a private park where they could sit on the grass, talk and have lunch under a tree.

Students also had a variety of hangouts around town. A popular place was the nearby Severance Mall. The newly renovated mall was a great hangout and included Severance Theater, which hosts seven movie screens. Shaw students met several times as a group and enjoyed "Shaw Night at the Movies." Severance also had an eating section known as the Galaxy. You can always find students grabbing a bite to eat before a show.

Speaking of eating, students could always be found in local restaurants such as Angela Mia’s or McDonald’s after a victorious game or a dance.

Games — football and basketball — drew large crowds of Shaw students. Extracurricular activities also drew a large group of students who united for the purpose of having fun and being with friends.

It was not uncommon for members of a variety of cliques to assemble for informal gatherings at a friend’s home. There, they would listen to music, talk or view rented videos.

Changes Add Up To a Plus

Check this out! Sleek, sophisticated and superb. Those are the words which best describe the student body of Shaw High School.

This year we kicked off the homecoming celebration with a "new style" rally where Shaw students cheered on their favorite candidates. This year, the rally was moved from the gym to the auditorium. Candidates danced in the aisles on their way to the stage. The change was a disappointment to sophomores and freshmen running were Leon Miles, Jacques Sadler, Dwight Warner and Tramel Tucker.

Mr. Tucker and Ms. Hunter were crowned King and Queen for the 1988-89 celebration.

Homecoming Day celebrations began with a parade which featured the Homecoming Court, clubs, organizations and different groups. Immediately following the parade was the football game where our Cardinals beat Lincoln West by a whopping 58-0 score. During halftime, the King and Queen were crowned.

In the long run, most people thought overall that the proceedings were better with soft instrumental music for each candidate. Perhaps this reflects the strong jazz liking of so many students. Each candidate was required to give a brief speech this year, to explain why they were the best candidate.

The female candidates this year were Melonee Burrell, Audrey Curtis, Kelly Drake, Cecelia Young and Jennice Hunter. Males in the Vocational were introduced.

The night concluded with a semi-formal dance. All students could attend and dance the night away the Cardinal way.

This year, there are many fads and fashions that the students of Shaw High are wearing. We, the students of Shaw High school, like to dress and we wear it well. Here are some of the most common styles and names that people are wearing: Polo, Benetton, Anne Klein, Tommy H., Outback, Red Leather Gap and Liz Claiborne. People like to wear loafers with suit jackets as the extreme in casual apparel.

Are Shaw students still attracted to designer labels? You bet! Senior swimmer, Brian Massey, says he prefers to wear a designer label because “That’s what’s in!” His fellow senior, Jerome Lowery feels they promise quality. Tracy Jackson represents the views of many, however, when she says, “Wear what looks good on you. Labels mean nothing if you don’t look good!”

“89” is a year of hot trends and fashions. To show you what we mean, we intend to show you some of the fashion trends of this year. As you will see, in the fashion department, Shaw students know what style is and how to coordinate various outfits.

The biggest trend that’s new this year is the friendship band. These friendship bands are worn with any attire and their purpose is to symbolize the close bond of friendship between two friends.

Looking at hair styles, Shaw has always been known for its “fresh cuts.” The “Cameo” cut is a style which most young men of Shaw wear. Shaw women enjoy wearing a “Bobb” which can be cut into geometric shapes.

As you can see, fashion plays a big role at Shaw. We, the students of Shaw, like to dress and we wear it well!
Shaw students are well known for their fashion statements. They are also known for their Super fresh cuts. Above, you will find a few examples of "Super Cardinal Style". From the left, April Robinson shows off her three point "Bobb" while junior Evelyn Riase gives us a glimpse of her glamorous cut. Senior Cedric Robinson adds an attractive smile to complement his "Cameo" cut. Twins Freda and Donita Arnold set good examples of Shaw High fashion.
Hot Trends . . .
Fashion Looks Around Shaw

The fashions that today's teens are wearing seem to vary as the years go by. Today they sport styles that are casual, dressy, preppy and even include the torn jeans and tennis shoe look. Every year, the craving for tennis shoes gets stronger and stronger. They have become such a fashion statement that females wear them with skirts and males wear them with suits.

One of the most popular styles is the suede or leather look. A leather dress or skirt with a nice blouse for the girls and a pair of leather slacks for the guys, (accompanied by a silk shirt, a sweater or a full length jacket) is DEATH! A new look, called the "sag" is also very popular. The sag is created by buying pants too big so they hang down in the back.

Today's fashions are truly "eye-catching". Shaw students look great because they take care in developing their wardrobe.

Shopping has become an important activity for today's students. In fact, the malls are like a second home for students.

How would you like to take care of two of us?
Today wasn’t an ordinary day at Shaw High School. Why? Because it was stuffed animal day!

Today was the day, much to the chagrin of the staff, when it was O.K. to bring a stuffed animal or two to school. Boy, oh boy! Wasn’t it a sight to see? Guys were more involved in the day than expected. When asked what they thought of bringing a stuffed animal to school, this is what they had to say:

“I love to show off mine because I enjoy showing him dressed up in school colors. He is also very special to me because I won him for my mom.”

Big Bob Harald

“I wish it shows you care for someone more than just yourself. I also feel they are for ‘Show and Tell!'”

Shawdra Maxey

“Beside being cute, quiet and lovable, they don’t talk back? Somedays we all run into people who put us down and hurt our feelings. With a stuffed animal, we can turn around and see a sweet face, give a hug and feel a whole lot better!”

Simone Lawson
Grade 12

“The day was fun with lots of oohs and aahs. Perhaps we should have days like this more often!”

Senetta Mays
Grade 10

Why did Shaw High students like their stuffed animals and bring them to school? Is it a big time version of “Show & Tell”? Is it to have something to hug when things go wrong? Finally, are they just too lovable to be left alone? The answers, though similar, do vary.

“Stuffed animals show caring and sensitivity towards a young lady, as well as bringing out the kid in all of us!”

Calvin Curry
Grade 12

The day was fun with lots of oohs and aahs. Perhaps we should have days like this more often!

Students these days seem to be very independent, and when we say independent, we mean financially, as in “workin' through school.” Students tend not to ask their parents for money as much as they used to. In some cases they can't and in some cases it's because they have their own. Many of our high flying Cardinals have jobs and spend up to 40 hours a week at work.

Students work in order to keep up with the expenses of school, in order to keep up with the latest fads and fashions and, in some cases to help out at home. They also work to become reliable, responsible and mature members of society.

Working through school can really be difficult. It's rough when you have to work too many hours or do not have a set schedule. Many students find it difficult to combine a job and school. In most cases, it's the school work that suffers.

When a student combines a job and school there are many adjustments to make. The important thing is to remember your first job is your schoolwork.

Working through school is a good way to make an entry into the real world.

1988-89 BEST FRIENDS OF THE YEAR!
Who's your best friend?

Through out the years there have been people who have become famous because of their special friendship. There is Tom and Jerry, Laverne and Shirley, Heckel and Jeckel, the Three Stooges, the list goes on and on. Their stories made us remember when, how, and where we met our best friends and how our relationships started. This year we asked our seniors “Who’s your best friend?” We received a lot of response from our students, but we could only feature 10. The groups picked showed a special bond that made them stand out above the crowd. Trust, honesty, love, laughter and Best friends come in twos, they also pay a lot of dues. You can’t see one without the other. The special bond between the two cannot be broken. Many of them use this as a token. The special care for each other cannot be stolen. Their friendship is very unique. Best friends are always joking. You can say that they often get in trouble together. But most of all, they stick together in the worst situations.

Ebony and Christa

These two met at a time of sorrow. It was when the Brooks boys were killed. LaVisa was very close to them. When they returned to school that Monday, LaVisa was crying when Veronica offered her a stick of gum to ease her pain. Every since they have been best friends.

Costance and Nicole hated each other more than anything, but they were together a lot because their boyfriends were best friends. So they learned to get along. tears are just some of the things our students have shared with us. Check them out!
My best friends are Dwayne (Da-Da) Compton and Kevin Hawkins. We are the best of friends because we basically enjoy the same things and we are easy to get along with. We all enjoy going out with girls, hanging out at the mall, and some times just riding around town when we have nothing better to do. We've been best friends since elementary school and we will always be the best of friends, even though they left me here to graduate from Shaw all by myself.

Patrick, Da-Da and Kevin

Leah and I have been best friends for 13 years. We have had our ups and downs but that is what friendship is about. We have shared many secrets and the good thing about it is that we are the only two who know about it. We have laughed and cried together. When Leah is down, I cheer her up, and when I'm down, she cheers me up. There are times when we have gotten in trouble together and what a mess! The best part about our relationship is the trust and honest we have for one another. Another positive thing is we find it easy to confide things with each other. These reasons and many others are why we are best friends.

Leah and Stephanie

I first met Sam on my way home from elementary wrestling practice at Shaw. Along with other wrestlers on our street, we walked home from practice. Sam and I saw, one by one, everybody quit except for us. Once we were at Kirk, we became good friends, but we were also rivals. We both thought we would get the M.V.P. award. I was wrong and Sam got the award.

Sam and Maurion
Lisa Fields has grown to be my best friend. Her friendly, quick smile and great personality aided in our friendship. I recall meeting Lisa in gym class during our 9th grade year. Though we weren’t close then, this year she has become a great friend who I can identify with. We get along all of the time and share special moments, which we will be grateful to tell our kids about. No one could have a better best friend.

Lisa and Kim

We met at Case Western Reserve University Upward Bound during the school year of 1986-87. Neither of us actually know when we became friends and just recently we realized that we were best friends. We can openly express the way we feel and if our feelings are different we still respect each others views. We love each other like sisters. That is why our friendship will last until the end of time.

Cassaundra and Jozon

My best friends are Conrad Bartley and Darnell Staten. They are always around when I feel down and I am always there for them too. We are sorta like a modern, say, “Three Muskeeters.” There is no female in this world, no matter how beautiful she is, that can destroy our friendship. We have a strong bond between us that will never be broken, and that’s why we are best friends.

Waverly, Conrad and Darnell
The Stars of the 1988 Summer Olympics, clockwise from top: diver Greg Louganis won 2 gold medals; track and field star Carl Lewis won 2 gold (including 1 after Canadian Ben Johnson was disqualified) and 1 silver; Florence Griffith Joyner won 3 gold and 1 silver; and swimmer Matt Biondi celebrated with 5 gold, 1 silver and 1 bronze.

The 1988 Summer Olympics in Seoul, South Korea, opened with a dramatic and dazzling ceremony. A colorful, three hour spectacle mixing ancient Korean rituals with space age technology kicked off 16 days of athletic competition.
The Shuttle Discovery blasted into orbit in September, the first space flight since the shuttle Challenger mission ended tragically 73 seconds after liftoff on January 28, 1988. The Discovery ended it's successful four day, 1.6 million mile mission with a triumphant landing at Edwards Airforce Base in California.

It became an international effort of good will. Russians and American rescuers cut through the ice in Alaska to save two California gray whales. The whales were trapped in the ice for more than three weeks. News media from around the world converged on the tiny village of Barrow, Alaska, to cover the successful rescue.

The summer of 1988 was hit with the worst drought in many years. Throughout the midwest, farmers watched helplessly as their crops went dry. In East Cleveland, we baked on the streets!
Amid tears and grief, thousands of people who had died of AIDS were memorialized in October in ceremonies centered on a huge quilt that was made from friends and family members of the victims. Each of the panels measured three feet by six feet and all 50 states and a dozen foreign countries were represented in the 375,000 square foot quilt.

President Ronald Reagan and Soviet Leader Mikhail Gorbachev worked for several years to bring the two countries together. After a treaty was signed to eliminate certain nuclear weapons, 1988 was the year the efforts of these two leaders went into effect.

Vice-President George Bush, after serving for eight years in the Reagan administration, got the expected nod at the Republican National Convention in New Orleans in the summer of '88. His running mate was Senator Dan Quayle of Indiana. Public opinion polls showed the 41 year old senator was not a popular choice. Bush and Quayle won the election.
It was one of the big marriages of the year. Heavyweight boxer Mike Tyson married actress Robin Givens. But the stormy marriage of the 22 year old rich boxer and the 23 year old beautiful actress lasted less than a year. She filed for divorce. After being accused of marrying “Iron Mike” for his money, Givens said she wouldn’t take a dime. Tyson came to Cleveland to recuperate.

The World at Shaw

Steve Andre, Paris

We've all heard of an American in Paris, but whoever heard of a Parisian in East Cleveland? Shaw High, that's who! This year Shaw was home to Steve Andre of Paris, France. Steve was here with the Youth for Understanding Exchange Program and resided with senior Germaine Billingsly and his family.

In Paris, Steve lives with his mother, Christiane, who is a psychologist and with his older brother and sister. The school Steve attends in Paris is much smaller than Shaw.

How did Steve enjoy his time in America? He loved the phone system, Cedar Point and the friendly people. He did miss the hustle and bustle of Paris, the City of Light.

Steve returned to Paris at the end of May. His American brother, Germaine will visit this summer.

Bon soir, Steve! We enjoyed your visit, your humour and most of all, YOU!

Simone Lawson, Brazil

Senior cheerleader, Simone Lawson, was hoping her first composition this year would be “How I Spent My Summer Vacation”. After all, it’s not every girl who spends her summer in Brazil!

Simone participated in a Youth for Understanding Summer Program. She spent seven weeks of the summer of ’88 with the Scota Family of Campinos, Brazil. The family included Jose and Rita, Simone’s Brazilian parents, and their daughters, Andrea and Daniella.

“My time in Brazil was a very enriching experience which opened my eyes to new horizons and ideas,” said Simone. “By the time I returned to the U.S., I had discovered that people are the same everywhere. They seek happiness, love and success.”

Simone found teenagers in Brazil very like their American counterparts. Despite language barriers, certain things are universal.

We are certain Simone will always treasure those seven weeks!
Geeks! Ugh! They’re everywhere! This male, teenage phenomenon can be spotted either when his head scrapes the ceiling or when his forehead crashed into the doorknob! His bone thin (or squat, dumpy) body awkwardly negotiates the hallways at school.

Readily identified as the creature who happily resides in the front row of your math class — he’s one of those types with all the answers. He’s the kind who spends his leisure time in search of newer and more exciting ways to solve those tricky math problems. He’s the kid who does tomorrow’s homework at lunch — the one who does his shopping at Geeks-R-Us. Whatever he is — he’s not your type!

You wonder what guys like this must be thinking! How could they possibly believe their passion for you — a normal girl with normal friends — could ever be reciprocated? What happens when one of these hopelessly weird people falls for YOU?

Definitely not a geek is Michael Jordan. At right, your basic geek.

I would probably say that I had a girlfriend and that maybe we could be friends.

Tyrone Ashford

I would ask her where she knew me from and then I would ask her if she had a job.

William Gambrell

I would probably just say, in a nice way of course, that I would not be interested in her.

Sean Zitney

I would say that I had a girlfriend already and then I would introduce her to one of my other friends.

Roderick Crockett

Those geeky girls! They’re out to get you no matter what happens! A geek in love will happily dump their favorite hideouts to get close to YOU—her cherished love! Abandoning her calculators, computer screens, thick books and other geeky friends, she will tag after you—desperately seeking a glimmer of recognition on your part!

Remember guys — when you’re tempted to laugh and run away — that a geek would never laugh at YOU or stand YOU up for a date! Geek girls aren’t into all that superficial stuff like good looks or clothes. They like you because you’re YOU!

What guy among you has never been doggedly pursued by such a specimen at least once? Remember, guys, let this girl down easily, if you must. You may feel she is making you look bad in front of your cool friends. How do you get out of a tough relationship?

Most guys would put a beauty like Jasmine Guy on the top of their date list but would they accept all girls as readily?
Where are you going for lunch?

It's a popular question heard around Shaw as the lunch periods roll around. Some students do mean what cafeteria are you going to but many mean where are you going, as in Sister's, Mays, or Mickey D's. At some schools this is not a problem, but Shaw has a closed campus.

A closed campus means students are not permitted to leave school for lunch. An open campus, of course, means you can.

Most schools, as is Shaw, are on a closed campus basis. It saves a lot of legal hassle if you keep students on campus.

Other schools have gone to the open campus because of overcrowding. Their cafeterias just cannot meet the needs of large numbers of students. At Shaw, the enrollment is declining.

Why do students persist in leaving campus? Many say they prefer the food at local fast food restaurants. Others say they work better after a break from school. Many teachers feel that once a student leaves campus, he/she is unlikely to return.

A number of students have obtained off campus lunch passes. They thought it made it legal to eat off campus but all they allow for is going home for lunch.

Local restaurateurs like the money students bring in but are the first to complain if students are loud or rowdy. It often turns away their adult customers.

African American History and Culture

"... KNOWLEDGE SHALL LIFT UP THE SCHOLAR'S HEAD", a quote by Egyptian poet Ptah-Hotep, was our theme this year for the month of February. Special attention was given to the heritage, culture and contributions of African Americans. Every class was asked to become involved in observing this special month through the use of bulletin boards, assignments, special projects, and participation in the school project.

The special school project was the compilation of a list of the ten most influential African Americans in addition to Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. This project was coordinated by the teachers in the English department.

The annual Black Academic challenge Competition, sponsored by East Cleveland Public Library, on Thursday, March 16th at 7:00 p.m. Coaches for the competition were Mr. Leon Hines, Mrs. Carol Shaheed, Mrs. Jacqueline Sharp, and Mr. Vernon Tolbert. The Honorable Judge Una Keenon served as moderator. Each member of the winning team, coached by Mrs. Sharp, received a $100.00 United States Savings Bond. This year's winners were Jocelyn Taylor, Calvin Curry, Angela Thompson, Shawnamichelle Leonard and Victor Jones.

The seminar series was held with a number of excellent speakers from the community participating.

Special announcements that highlighted some aspect of African American history and culture were made each day during the month of February.

Rainia Wiley Takes Top Spot!

The 1989 Martin Luther King, Junior, award winner was senior, Rainia Wiley. Rainia was chosen by the selection committee as the student who best exemplified and strove for the ideals and goals of Dr. Martin Luther King.

This year’s selection was particularly difficult due to the high quality of all nominees. Students are nominated on the basis of character, academics and community involvement. The 1989 nominees were all well qualified. In addition to Rainia, Germaine Billingsley, Cornelius Owens, Jacques Sadler, LaVisa Walls, Kara Strong and Gregory Sherrod were nominated. All possessed excellent recommendations and credentials for winning.

A pre-announcement straw ballot revealed the student body supported Wiley and Billingsley. The majority of students felt that all nominees were excellent choices for the prestigious award. Students were happy with Rainia’s selection.

Congratulations, Rainia. Congratulations, nominees.

Everyone a Winner!

Simon's Odd Couple Alive at Shaw

Fall Play a Winner

Shaw High's Le Masque Drama Club chose a classic for its 1988-89 production. Neil Simon's "The Odd Couple" showcased the talents of seniors Cornelius Owens and Thomas Barnes. Owens starred as the irascible Oscar, a perennial slob, while Barnes played the role of the finicky Felix Unger. The two opposites are forced to share an apartment and the differences in their personalities provide the laughs.

The remaining roles were filled by Tramel Tucker as Murray, Akia Foster as Royal, Constance Hickman and Tandy Hatton as the Coo-Coo Pidgeon sisters, Marcus Reid as a decidedly "Lewis Turner" Vinny, and junior William Morgan as Speed.

Ms. O'Leary, director, said the play was... "Truly an ensemble performance." All cast members worked together to make the production a success. The veterans worked with the newcomers to make them more comfortable on stage. All cast members worked to fill in the gap when the original "Murray" moved to another school district. Tramel Tucker came in at the last moment and, with the help of Owens and Barnes, did a superb job.

One aspect of the production which all cast members enjoyed was learning to play poker. Oscar and his friends are real poker players and the scene didn't work until the cast learned to play. Ah! The sacrifices required by art!

Senior Hopes and Aspirations

This year has been one that is truly action packed. After four years of blood, sweat, and tears, the seniors of Shaw High's Class of 1989 have finally conquered the system. During the four years we've spent together, we have grown as a family and have spent good times as well as bad with one another. And now — we move on!

We move on to achieve the potential of which our educators have made us aware. We move on to being the innovators of our generation. We move on to be positive role models for others. These are our senior hopes and aspirations.

Although we all won't make it to the politicians, lawyers and doctors of tomorrow, we will still succeed by being the very best in whatever we have chosen. Our renowned educators have provided us with the necessary tools for preparation for the future. Our math will help us to become accountants; with our English classes, we can become the famous writers of tomorrow. Our vocational courses have provided us with the sharp tools for succeeding in business and the trades. Skills in computer programs will help us advance in our country's modern technology.

Now we will cross the bridge to the other side and begin building our dreams. Although there may be rough water under the bridge, infested with pollutions such as corruptions, selfishness and destruction, we will strive to succeed and find the road to success.

As we begin our journeys in separate directions, we know that now is the time to take a look at ourselves. Now is the time that we will move on to greater heights. Now is our time to take on new responsibilities and expand our horizons. If we believe it, we will achieve it. We have the talents and gifts to contribute to the dreams we seek. As we take a look at our past, we will make a difference. It is the only way, the expected way and the CARDINAL way!

Above: Germaine dreams of what is future will hold.
After my senior year in high school, I plan to attend eight years of college. I plan to earn a degree in business management and a minor in social services. Business would give me an opportunity to make a mark in the world. Social Services will enable me to work with people.

My goal is to set an example for the younger Black Americans and show them that it can be done.

Leslie Alford

As a graduating senior of the class of 1989, I have many hopes and aspirations for the future. My immediate goal is to attend a small but reputable college and major in psychology. My minor would be in ROTC. My next goal is to become a commissioned officer in the U.S. Air Force.

Marcus Reid

After high school, I plan to attend a Cleveland area college. My major will be pre-law and I will minor in theater. I plan to study these fields for six to seven years and obtain a law degree. I may work for a firm of attorneys, or maybe open my own office. I know this is the right choice for me because I love working with and helping others.

The Top Ten
Of 1989

The Spirit of Shaw Committee would like to congratulate the top ten students of the class of 1989. They represent the best of Shaw and we wish them continued success in the future. We hope their Cardinal spirit helps them achieve.

Ms. Phyllis Simmons, NHS
Last Will and Testament of the Class of 1989

I, Damon Thomas, being of sound mind and body leave Lichelle Peale my sense of humor, Deanna Sawyer, one night with a boy, Johnny Jenkins my basketball talent and finally, Rochelle D. Moore, my heart, for without her, as my heart, life would be incomplete.

I, Tracy Jones, being of better mind and body than some of you think, would like to leave the following to Brian Aikens. My sense of humor and the ability to make others laugh. Remember, whenever you’re single, no one will want you but as soon as you’re committed — here they come! Good luck! You are going to need it!

I, Angie Thompson, B.K.A. “Head”, leave my silliness to all the unhappy underclassmen, like they say, “those who laugh live longer”. Don’t worry, be Happy!

I, Frances Anita Perkins, would like to leave all of my worldly attributes such as my wonderful sense of humor, compassion, sweetness and the ability to succeed to my younger sister, Nichole Cherie Perkins.

I, Stuart Michael Mangrum, hereby leave my knowledge and will to succeed, as well as my aquatic abilities to my little brother, “Big” Micah Charles Mangrum.

I, Benita Thomas, leave my track skills and dedication to all those Lady Tracksters. I leave all my love to Terrance Mitchell.

I, Tarra Seifullah, leave my everlasting friendship, plenty of laughter, good times, hopes for a pleasant future and the ability to succeed to my good friend, Paul Miller.

I, Regina Wilson, will leave my good grades, funny personality and good looks to all the underclass girls. I leave my spunk and bravery to my sister. Good Luck!

I, Tanisha Watson, leave my patience to LaToya Cesar, my love and admiration to my ladies in the main office, my friendship to Raynesa Funn and Benita Thomas, and my thanks to the faculty & staff for 4 years of fun and laughter.

I, Al Taylor, leave all my hardships, troubles and worries to all the underclassmen at Shaw!

The Shaw faculty and staff is composed of a variety of personalities, abilities and interests. Whatever Shaw students needed or wanted — there was someone capable of providing it.

Shaw’s administration, composed of a principal, six unit principals, an assistant principal and an administrative coordinator, are primarily responsible for taking care of business here at Shaw. They are the people who enforce board policy, enroll students and handle discipline referrals.

Shaw’s unit office system changed last year. It expanded from four to six units to equalize the student load and provide better service to students. Students are now assigned according to last name as opposed to being divided by grade level. Initially, many students disliked the new system but continuity and familiarity have made it more comfortable.

The teachers of Shaw High do far more than just teach. In many cases, they provide that extra spark and support. Many teachers were involved in coaching, or tutoring, or a number of other activities. Often they are just that special person you needed to talk with.

The administration and faculty are able to do their jobs because of a fine support staff. Our excellent secretaries ease the jobs of counselors and administrators. The custodial staff at Shaw works hard to keep the buildings clean and orderly. The cafeteria workers make even the most institutional of foods taste better with their cheery smiles and pleasant manner.

Shaw teachers, administrators and staff helped make Shaw a nicer place to be in 1989. Look them over and check them out!

Support Deserves a Hand!

What do they do, these support personnel of Shaw High School? The range of their responsibilities is overwhelming. They check you in when you are tardy; send you home when you are sick. They handle records questions, phone calls, administrators, teachers, students, parents and visitors. They cook meals for you and clean up after you. They set up the stage for programs. They handle incoming mail and outgoing packages. They carry heavy loads. They maintain security in the halls and at events. They sometimes assume the role of mother, father, friend, counselor and instructor. They do a lot, these support personnel.

Ms. Sowell, Mrs. Lee and Mrs. Rice brighten the main office.

How are they treated, these support personnel? They are loved and hated; respected and insulted; held in esteem or treated like dirt. They share joys in life as well as the brunt of frustrations. They are thought of well — or not at all.

Where would we be without these support personnel? We would have dirty halls and overflowing waste baskets. We would receive no mail, have no lunch and never receive a message. We would have no grades, no records or transcripts. There would be no light or heat.

Without them, the support personnel of Shaw High School, we wouldn’t be able to function. They are truly a key element in the successful operation of Shaw.

A New Decade Approaches!
What's Ahead for the Nineties?

The beginning of a whole new decade, that's what makes the class of 1990 so unique. The blending of their personalities, values, attributes and achievements form a colorful rainbow that no other class can outshine. We are the start of a whole new decade!

This symbolizes an immense change; greater leaders, greater sense of values. Through our academic abilities and determination, we have proven we are the best.

We are able to keep our eyes on the prize and work to reach our goal. We are the class that remember: "Tough times never last, but tough people do!"

One Step Away From the Future!

Juniors Ready!

Some thought that the day would never come. The day when they would be able to break away from the humiliating title of an "underclassman" and enter the wonderful world of the upper class.

After surviving the terrors of being a freshman, you finally, with great relief, reached your sophomore year. "Things can only get better," you thought. And they did. Here you are only one step away from that ultimate goal of being a senior.

For some, this day wasn't as wonderful and glamorous as they had imagined. It meant long hours spent on challenging courses and agonizing over preparations for college.

For many, academics became an increasingly important factor... College, and other advanced training seemed so far away. Now students are faced with the choice of where they want to go and what they want to do. More importantly, students are faced with the reality of having a grade point high enough to please the school of their choice. Remember, the junior year is the year that most colleges look at when selecting their next class. We hope you made it one of your best!

Sophomores had reason to celebrate. Things had changed; There were now people in the hall shorter than they. The upperclass students tended to ignore them rather than tease them. They even began to develop a unique Shaw “spirit”!

All sophomores got the once in a lifetime chance to take health and learn all about healthy living as well as sex-ed! After sophomore year, phys. ed. will become only a memory.

Another memory was being a freshman and being glad that year was past!

Sophomores had a good deal to look forward to — soon enough they’ll be the seniors and will graduate from high school. For now, we hope they will take their time and build up memories for a lifetime!

Nineteen Hundred and '91

It's True! We are a class of class.
A class of courage made only to last.
Although our work is yet undone;
We await the year of '91!

And as we await the year to come,
Take the time to see how far we've come;
So far from where we started from,
We are the class of '91!

Let other look at us and see
What a class was really meant to be:
A spirited class
A determined class
A proud class
A strong-willed class
A class which walks successfully!

The class of a year so soon to come,
The class of a year which will be won,
That spirited class, that class of class —
Nineteen hundred and '91!

Good luck to the winners of the class of 91!
The first day of school is usually associated with the words “mass confusion”, but when that first day is coupled with freshmen, chaos can result. This past year, the first day of school was especially hectic for new students.

Coming from the middle school, where they had been the “top dogs”, they were now at the bottom of the heap again, and there is nothing worse than that. They had to try to adapt to a new school, students and administration. The Transitions program was designed to help the new freshmen overcome some of these problems. It offered an intensive look at getting around Shaw, school rules and scheduling of classes.

Some of the major problems faced by freshmen were finding their way around the buildings and also finding time for their lockers. On any given day, one could see more than half the freshman class walking around with duffel bags, many of which were larger than their owners. They also encountered the problem of “musical” classrooms, in which the freshmen were seen scurrying from room to room, trying to find the right one before the tardy bell rang. Many were on the run for the first couple of weeks!

Despite all their problems, the class of ’92 gave it their all. They found the rooms, found ideal locker times and even remembered their new teacher’s names! Although you could still find a few freshmen with their oversize duffel bags, most managed to figure it out. This class of freshmen certainly tried their best to succeed. Good Luck to the class of 1992!

A new freshman figures out the right combination!

The English Department at Shaw High School is run by Joanne Speidel. The main objective of the department is to enable the students of Shaw High to read, write, and speak well. This year a new class Black Literature was added to the curriculum. Other curriculum changes will include a whole new course of study for grades 9-12. Also a writing lab is in their process of development; the lab will be equipped with word processors that will enable students to revise easily.

Eleven years ago, the English department began the "Renaissance Festival". The story is told by Ms. Carol Blaha.

In 1978, when Shaw offered three elective senior classes, an assembly program to encourage juniors to select British literature was envisioned. The assembly program would showcase the talents and abilities of seniors in a program of vigorous competition. Thus began the Renaissance Festival.

So that all seniors would have a chance to perform, five different competitions were included as well as a variety of non-competitive event. Prizes, in the form of certificates are awarded in the character costume show, poetry writing, dramatic presentations of scenes from Shakespeare, medieval dance and a championship joust, in an "Academic Challenge" style competition. Other events include a musical selection, pantomime, decoration, refreshments, program cover design and photography.

Over 1200 students have competed in the annual event which has delighted scores of Shaw parents and underclassmen. Shaw teachers have served as judges, coaches and resource artists. Former festival participants return to judge and enjoy the tradition of excellence.

One of the strongest curriculums we have here at Shaw is the math department. This department is headed by Ms. L. Cain. The purpose of the math department is to prepare students for post secondary plans which include college, business school, trade schools, the military and or the world of work.

The math department is a very strong department with excellent members to uphold this title. They can be considered one big family because they work together in order to achieve their goals.

This year slight changes were made. A few teachers left and new staff members were added. Ms. Karen Owens took a year off, Ms. Paulette Gaines moved to Washington and Ms. Esther Boyd took a sabbatical. Along with these deletions came some additions. Mr. Richard Aistrope is new this year and Ms. Elizabeth Goodwin came to Shaw from West Tech. This year we have a total of eighteen math teachers on staff aimed to educate.

There are many facilities around campus where students can go to improve their math skills. We have a computer lab in which students can spend their free time. There is also a computer stationed in Mr. Jeckels room where students can work. If any student is having trouble with math, tutoring sessions are held in the library on selected days.

The math department offers a variety of classes that will enhance the students thinking. They range from general math, algebra, geometry, probability and calculus. Probability and statistics is a new course offered this year. The last time it was taught at Shaw was eleven years ago. Since there was sufficient enrollment, the class was offered again this year.

There is no reason not to have an excellent background in math if you go to Shaw!

Science

The Shaw High Science Department, offers a wide variety of activities for students in Science as well as those who are not.

The Science Department initiated the Greenhouse Program. The Greenhouse Program is for 9th grade students, who have a 7th period Study Hall. Students meet every school day at the greenhouse. They are taught how to grow plants from seeds, the care of plants and how to arrange them. The students are involved with the aspects of business also. Students are responsible for the sale to the public publicity, bookkeeping and the distribution of the plants and flowers. The money that is raised from the sales are used to buy materials to carry on the greenhouse.

Students from colleges also visits the Science classes. An all day assembly is given where students from Hirim College visits to give talks about their institution. Students are also involved with campus visits to Biology centers, weekend stays on campus, and also a chance for parents with personnel.

The Science Department sponsors the Career Awareness Program (CAP) which has visited Kentucky University, Morehouse and Spellman College.

The department also presents its annual Science Fair and distinguished Scientist Program in which outstanding Scientist within the school and community were honored for their achievements.

The Science Department of Shaw is shaping the minds of the future Scientist.

Students from Ms. Shaheed's Black Awareness class listen to a speaker at the African Museum in Cleveland.

Ms. Sharp's students examine their personal badges as a clue to discovery of self.

Students learn about themselves in psychology.
The social studies department of Shaw offers a wide variety of courses which are aimed to help students in day to day living. Popular courses such as Black Awareness, Street Law and psychology are fun, but also interesting.

Black Awareness, taught by Mrs. Shahee, was a course designed to teach Afro-American students about some of the things they do and why they do them on a cultural basis. The course is one that is very trendy. Students are taught about what goes on, on a day to day basis in the black community. In order to learn the future, we must know our past.

The course includes the study of how Africans came to America. It also handles the way African Americans talk, act and dress. It covers what we do in general that affects our minds and bodies.

Black Awareness is full of basic understanding of the African American.

Street Law is a full year popular course full with great excitement, fun and learning about the law.

What is the law? Basically, the law is the set of rules that enables the members of a society to live and work together in harmony and to settle their disputes without violence. It pervades our day to day relationships, the people we deal with in our jobs and the members of our community.

This course advises you of every right you should know as a citizen. It goes into great detail about the legal system and about laws. Some laws are in the form of a written constitution of statutes. Others are legal principals that have arisen over the years from custom, experience and common expression.

To make the course more realistic, weddings, a family and mosaics are experienced first hand. There is also a drug game for students in street law classes.

Mr. Tuttle and Ms. Simon taught street law.

Psychology was taught by Ms. Sharp. This course gave students a brief class about life. The course runs for a semester. Emphasizing common sense, the course deals with the mind and what makes people act and behave as they do. The class is action packed and constantly involves the students.

Courses such as these enhance academic excellence. They help students at Shaw learn about their past, their laws and themselves.
Foreign Language Experience Adds Zing to Spanish

This year, the students of the 1988-89 Spanish classes had a unique opportunity to meet people and ideas from other cultures.

Mrs. Senor has an exchange student from Alexis Mcarcez, who visited her classes. Maria Jose Salcedo from Argentina assisted the Spanish Students and taught them about her native country. In addition, Mrs. Senor’s Student teacher, Mark Cummings of CSU, lived in Venezuela where he taught English as a foreign language. His Venezuelan wife visited the Spanish classes and talked about life there as well.

Having lived in Argentina, Mrs. Senor prepared lessons employing slides and showing an Academy Award winning film “The Official Story” to her Advanced classes.

Mrs. Senor’s Spanish IV class of 1989-90 is hoping to visit Costa Rica and live within families there for several weeks in the coming year.

Senor Howard's classes did something very exciting. They built Casa Sonada (The Dream House). Each class divided itself into five (5) groups and each group was responsible for one room in the house (i.e., living room, dining room, kitchen, etc.)

The students increased their vocabulary for home furnishings. After the houses were completed, twelve judges were kind enough to judge each category. In the end, each “Casa Sonada” was a winner!

Students rejoice when test grades are high!

French Students Meet a Real Frenchman!

French students this year had a unique experience to strengthen their language skills. They were able to meet and talk with exchange student Steve Andre.

French teacher, Madame Blum, used Steve advantageously. Steve was able to work with students and help them with grammar and idiomatic expressions.

Steve’s classmates really enjoyed working with a real Frenchman. It helped to increase their awareness of the need to speak another language correctly. You won’t be understood unless you speak clearly and correctly.

Steve’s work with students helped to increase his English skills. He became more aware of the differences than he would have had an opportunity to at home.

Sharing cultures and language is what exchange programs are all about!
Health in Perspective

Health is offered at Shaw in order to teach students the principals of healthy living in order to insure long and productive lives.

Health is a required course for all tenth graders and transfer students who as yet have not completed this state required course.

The curriculum for the health department is continually updated as more information becomes available on a wide variety of health topics.

Students learn about themselves, their bodies and their relationships with others. As Mr. Jordan's bulletin board states — “Health is mental, social and physical.” It is an important subject for all.

The health teachers work closely with a variety of local agencies to keep students updated on many topics such as teen pregnancy, AIDS and chemical abuse. They also try to use the latest in films relating to their topic in order to show the importance and relevancy of what they are teaching.

Students also learn the principals of CPR during this course. Many a student has come to love or hate asphyxiated Annie — the practice dummy for resuscitation. They also learn the Heimlich maneuver for saving a person from choking.

There are many courses at Shaw that are important. Health is both important and practical — a real bonus for its students and teachers.

Students watch, listen and take notes during their health class.

At top, from l to r: D. Lawrence and D. Davis utilize the facilities in the DHO Lab. Above, Ms. Tobiasz and Alfie Merritt practice CPR on "Annie".
The letters DHO stand for Diversified Health Occupations. This is a vocational program designed for interested juniors and seniors. The main objective of the program is to prepare students for entry level positions at medical institutions and enable them to advance in the medical field.

The instructor of DHO is Ms. Mary Lawrence. She has been in charge of the program for fourteen years. She says, "The students are nice and I enjoy working with them." It seems her students feel the same about her!

The criteria for entrance into the program is that you enjoy helping others and have a background in biology and typing.

During the junior year, three credits can be obtained and classes last for three periods. In the senior year, only two periods of the day are occupied by DHO.

"Many people have the idea that only students with low abilities enter DHO and other vocational classes, but there are many bright students in the program who think vocational school answers their needs," says Ms. Lawrence. "I have had many honor and merit roll students who show a great potential for nursing or other technical medical work."

The program is a very successful one, but there are changes needed. A VCR in the classroom would be helpful for students to view related material. A computer would help because much of the current medical technology is computer related.

Many students from the DHO program go on to become registered nurses, head nurses and physical therapists. It is up to the student to strive to be the best they can be. They must choose their own future.

Vocational Business
A Wide Array of Skills

The vocational business department of Shaw High offers a variety of subjects for students interested in a business career.

Accounting specialist is a two year program which includes planned learning experiences relating to accounts, quantitative records and the payment and reception of money. The course content stresses accounting theory and data processing concepts. Students are eligible for entry level jobs in the business field upon completion of this course. A number of students opt for college to pursue a four year degree.

The secretarial specialist program prepares students for positions in the medical and legal fields as beginning workers. Keyboard skills are emphasized with word processors, memory typewriters and calculators. Most students go into the work force in an entry level job in a medical legal environment.

Word processing is a two year program which concentrates on areas of business which relate to office procedures, report writing and keyboarding. Students learn about electronic equipment storage systems and other office equipment.

Marketing Education is a class offered to Shaw High seniors that enhances the students career skills. Throughout the year, the students take two college bound courses and two periods of marketing education.

During the remaining three periods of the day, the students get on the job training at jobs acquired through the program. In these jobs, the students learn skills such as resume writing, merchandising, retail sales skills, business math, human relations and career advancement techniques. At the end of the year, the students have a range of choices for the future. These choices include going to college, keeping their current job or gaining the experience needed to move up in their chosen field.

This program definitely prepares students for the working world ahead of them!

Cooperative Office Education (COE) offers students a variety of job skills to gain an entry level job in the business world. Students learn office procedure, business machines, typing, filing and bookkeeping. They also develop human relation skills in order to succeed in the field. The students are qualified for general office work, file clerk, typists and bookkeeping.

Auto Body & Mechanics
Welding and Machine Trades

Auto body, mechanics, welding and machine trades are at the center of Shaw's Trade & Industry curriculum. All courses are designed with the purpose of preparing students for entry level positions in the world of machines.

Auto body & mechanics are two year courses. As the automotive industry becomes more complex, so does the auto curriculum.

Machine trades and welding teach students safety principles and the essentials of working with complex machinery.

All courses offered are popular choices for students who seek gainful employment after graduation.
Shaw High's Vocational School has it all, including its very own restaurant, "Captain's Quarters." Student's scheduled for the class run the establishment. The student prepares the meals under the instruction of a new teacher, Mrs. Hummer, and Mrs. Keller.

Not only do students cook but each week students are assigned to other duties such as arranging the Salad Bar and tables, waiting on tables and of course washing those dishes. Students are in the class for five (5) periods. During the five periods during every day except Thursdays and Fridays the student is briefed about meals they will be serving.

On Thursdays and Fridays the doors of Captain's Quarters opens up to give business to faculty, staff and some risky students who are brought by teachers.

The Captain's Quarters offers a wide variety of foods to please your appetite including some of it's specialty sandwiches. There are also different entrees of the day.

After the meal, there is always the dessert. Captain Quarters serves up some of the best desserts to soothe that sweet tooth.

Not only do they serve lunch. When they are open for business, but also they serve for private lunches. Captain's Quarter's also does some catering for engagements outside of school, preparing party trays and baking whole cakes and pies.

The two year Cosmetology program is designed to prepare entering Juniors to pass the Ohio State Board of Cosmetology examination and enter employment as a licensed cosmetologist. Upon completion of the 1500 hours required by the Ohio State Board of Cosmetology (by April 30th of the Senior year) the East Cleveland Board of Education sends all students to take their exam prior to graduation.

The related technical areas of cosmetology include instruction in the areas of receptionist duties verbal/non-verbal communication skills, anatomy & physiology of skin and hair, chemistry as it relates to hair and hair products, inventory control & salon management skills. Clinical work includes manicuring, pedicuring, hair shaping pressing curling and styling.

T.V. Production

Commercial art is the creation of art for commercial purposes. It is used in advertising, publications and television to interest a particular idea for support. Areas that are taught are welding, mag welding, straight edge cutting, brazing and blue print reading.

This course is a two year course. Students should have a background in math, industrial art and science.

Art One is designed to aid students to develop a keener and more profitable use of the senses to enhance them in the appreciation and worth of art. This course will provide students with a strong foundation in fundamentals of design through the study of five principles: line, form, space, texture and color.

Students are exposed to the great artists through presentations and field trips to museums, exhibitions, galleries and shows.

The purpose of T.V. Production is to give students an opportunity to have hands on experience with audio-visual equipment. Students gain a lot of experience by taping many Shaw activities such as the Renaissance Festival, Mock Trial, play previews and classwork. Mr. Brown, instructor, notes that state of the art equipment was used to tape the Black Academic Challenge at the East Cleveland Public Library.

In 1989, the department participated in the “Nuclear Age Video Project”, sponsored by the Nuclear Age Resource Center at Tri-C. Susan Wehling was the guest videographer.

Mr. Brown would like to see the department grow. Videography is the science of the future.

Mike Thomas and LaVelle Humphrey set up an outstanding play.

Not Big physically, this Cardinal shows his power!
That "Little More" Made Them
Big Red Champions!

The "Big Red" came off a brilliant 9-1 season. Overall, they were 5-1 in the Lake Erie League which meant the Cardinals shared the 88 Conference Title. Seniors Mike Thomas, Sean Patterson, Waverly Willis, Darnell Staten, Calvin Curry and Robert Bostick led the way during the season as captains.

This season has been one of the most productive seasons in years. Not only did the team win nine games, but seven of those games were shut outs. Cardinal fans were treated to six shut outs in a row as the season opened. Of those shut outs, four games were decided by three or more touchdowns! The offense moved and scored whenever possible.

The defense for the mighty Cards was outstanding! The "Big Red" defense held all ten opponents to a combined total of thirty points! In ten games, that was an average of only three points per contest!

"Great defense! The most wins since the sixties!" said Coach Tom Mental. The Lake Erie League Champs were so good that they were ranked seventeenth in the State of Ohio and fourth in an inner city Plain Dealer Poll.

Coach Mental said he had a lot of great moments during this season. One bad moment, however, was the double overtime loss to Valley Forge at home.

As a result of the great season, a number of players made the all L.E.L. first team. They are: Mike Thomas, Robert Bostick, Lavell Humphrey, Demetrius Oliver, Sean Patterson, Darnell Staten and Waverly Willis.

Named to L.E.L. second team were Calvin Curry, Daryle Burns, Mario Houston, Darryl Vaughn and Altin Williams. Lance Houston, Bobby Harrell, Jonathan Howard and Mike Thompson received honorable mention. Needless to say, Coach Mental was named L.E.L. coach of the year.

Kent State University scored a coup by offering scholarships to three Shaw seniors, Mike Thomas, Darnell Staten and Waverly Willis.

Coach Mental would like to thank all assistant coaches which includes Mr. DiBartolomeo, Mr. Ramsey, Mr. Ross, Mr. J. Brown, Mr. Shelby, Mr. Jeckel, Mr. Caldwell, Mr. Conrad and Mr. T. Spivey for all their hard work which went into a winning season.

Waverly Willis

Every now and then one of those special ones comes along. He's a young man with talent and more importantly, the grit to carry out the basics. Sometimes they pass unnoticed by the crowd — but this is not the case with Waverly Willis.

During his time here at Shaw, Waverly has consistently improved as a football player. As Coach Mental pointed out, "The important thing is that Waverly is the single most consistent player I have ever seen. Everyone remembers the big plays, but, most importantly, I see him following the basics in every play. That's why the big plays come his way.

Waverly is the first person from Shaw in 30 years to be chosen to the first All-Ohio Team. We are proud of this fine young man and look forward to hearing from him in the future.

Junior Varsity Wins Eight!

Coach Ramsey’s Junior Varsity team captured yet another Lake Erie League Championship with a 5-1 league record and went 8-2 overall. Sophomore captain, Leonard Sharp led the way along with co-captain, Darnell Joiner. The two headed up an impressive season.

“The team improved in each game and showed the ability to work together as a unit,” according to Coach Ramsey. The most valuable player of the year was Leonard Sharp. Also to be commended for their efforts are sophomore Mark Anderson, Allen Moore, Rahmee Carr, Ron, Satters, Willism Chapman and Martin Williams.

Next stop for the J.V. players is the varsity team, The Big Red Machine! With the talent from the J.V. team plus the talented juniors who are already at the varsity level, everyone can have confidence that championship football will still be played at Shaw stadium.

Thank you, Coach Ramsey, for a spectacular year!

Volleyball:
Our Volleyball team displayed their best record ever! The Ladybirds were 10-10 overall, and 4th in the Lake Erie League. Leading them this year were Seniors Londa Byrd & Kelly Drake. They were not only captains but also have been Shaw’s Volleyball stars for 4 years.

“This has been the best team I’ve coached because of the experience of the players!” says coach Tobiasz

The teams biggest thrill was placing 3rd in the Akron Buchtel Tournament. In the tournament, the team was not only led by Londa Byrd, but also Rhonda Holmes who became the star of the show and earned the recognition of being the all-star. The L.E.L. player of the year for the Ladybirds was Londa Byrd. Receiving honorable mention recognition were senior Kelly Drake & junior Rhonda Holmes. Most improved player is Noura Johnson, and scholastic player was Vida Johnson. Coach T will look forward to next season’s action, because the team will be led by Rhonda Holmes and hopefully she can lead the Ladybirds to an L.E.L. title.

Great returns accounted for a successful season.

Coach Thomas’s team displayed a 6-12 record during the ‘88 season. This was the best cross country season mark since 1937. SINCE 1937!

“Winning is sweet,” says Coach Thomas.

The team was led by senior Craig Stewart, who also won the distinction of being an all L.E.L. player. Coach Thomas said the team really displayed good discipline. In this area, they were led by Clarence Ladson, Tyreno Sowell, Kareem Samod and Rausheem Thompson, along with Craig Stewart. They were the teams top five runners through out the season.

Other accomplishments were turned in by Nate Robinson, D’Artagnan Lyles, Leon Allison, Robert Ray and Dauntley Signal. Edward Danner and Jermaine McGowan were also top performers.

The Boy’s Cross Country team has progressed throughout the years, but this was their biggest year in terms of wins and point spreads.

Coach Thomas and his runners are earning respect around the league for their hard effort this season. It is certain that the season is bright for the Cardinal Cross Country team.

The girl’s cross country team had a 5-5 record overall. The team is to be commended for their gutsy dedication through out the season.

The girls who competed for Shaw in 88-89 were all either freshmen or sophomores, thus making them young and inexperienced. Our Lady Card’s, however, ran to their best despite all odds. Both Mr. & Ms. Brunton said, that because of their dedication, the girls could see great improvement in their skills. They look forward to next year’s competition.

Girls to be recognized for this season and looked forward to next season are ninth graders, Adrianne Edwards, Adrienne Owens and Ebony Lee. Also look for sophomores Lafrica Gums, Kistina Boyd, Nicole McClinton and Erica Miller.

Youth on the team is an advantage for next year, because, not only will the girls grow up together, they will improve and become better together. Indeed, they will become champions together!

The 1988-89 Girl’s Cross Country Team
St. Ignatius Start

Cross Country
The Ladybirds finished the year with a 13-10 record overall. They were 6-6 in the Lake Erie League. The Ladybirds were led by seniors Shirelle Kaiser, Londa Byrd & Charity Williams. The team finished in 5th place but even this season provided thrills for the Ladybirds and their fans.

One of the exciting moments was beating Glenville at the buzzer in the sectionals.

Coach Spivey says that a lack of experience was a problem this year. Only Shirelle Kaiser returned from last year's squad.

The Ladybird's Most Valuable Player this season was Ms. Shirelle Kaiser. Her work on the team was invaluable. Scholastic award recipients were Charity Williams and Terris Moore.

Thanks to Coach Spivey and the Shaw Ladybirds for providing us with an exciting season of girl's basketball!

Ooh! Are we embarrassed! There has never been a shortage of Ladybird pictures — until we went to look for them this year! We didn't have any; Mr. Tolbert didn't have any! Even the ever reliable Oliver Hunley didn't have any! So — with our apologies — and an O.K. from Coach Spivey — we present the season as seen through the eyes of sophomore, Warren Grant!

Rackets. Ready!

Shaw men and women's tennis were ready to go out and face their formidable foes this year. In recent years, both teams have grown in experience and ability.

The men's team, under Coach George Massa, has steadily improved. A few years ago, there were no wins. Of late, the wins have been coming with more frequency.

Both teams face some real competition but there is an old saying in tennis that you don't improve unless you play someone better. Good luck to both teams. Get those rackets ready.

This year's third place team in the Lake Erie League was Coach Walt Killian's Cardinal basketball team. The team held a 13-10 record overall. The Cardinals were led by 5'10" guard Maurice Harvey and 6'2" guard Kevin Griffin. Both seniors showed leadership throughout the season.

Harvey and Griffin were named all L.E.L. players. In addition, Emmanuel Delk led the team in rebounds. The most improved player was senior Stephen Hardaway. All players are definitely a credit to the team.

Coach Killian said that inexperience was what kept the Cardinals out of first place. That's the bad news. The good news is that the future looks bright for next year's Cardinals.

Winning is a tradition at Shaw.

Kevin Griffin, Stephen Hardaway and Willis Epps were selected to play in the regional all star games; the North Classic and the Ohio Classic.

Thanks for another exciting year, Cardinal's. Good Luck to Coach Killian and the Fighting Cardinal Basketball players of the 1990's. The past has carved a great reputation for you.

Wade in the Water

Underclass swimmer, Brian Bartley enjoys swimming even though most of it is hard work. “Sometimes it’s fun,” he adds.

Bartley credits senior captain, Kevin Jones for being a valuable leader and member of the team. Co-captain Robert Johnson and senior Brian Massey also received praise from Brian.

Wendell Lovelace and Conrad Bartley were very important members of the team. Bartley swam the butterfly in the 200 Medley race while Lovelace specialized in diving.

Next year’s team, with Bartley, Jerry Walker, Ralph Smith, Ornette Gibson and James Hill shows great potential for the future.

Mat Men!

As the season began, the Cardinal Wrestler’s started off with 4 back to back wins. After the Normandy match, the mat stars lost a bitter match against rival Shaker Heights. Top manager, Crystal Levert, was concerned but not disappointed. She has always been a supporter of the Cardinal wrestlers since she joined them in the fall of 1986. She hasn’t had a dull moment since signing on.

The Cardinal wrestlers have had their ups and downs but even in their worst moments, on one could ever call the masters quitters. They will fight until the fight is done!

Shapiro McDonald, Demetrius Kin, Lamar Washington, Delrone Brown, Marc Graham and the rest of the team have set some very impressive records while on their journey to victory.

Shapiro has a personal record of 21 wins and three lost matches. This record took him to the Mentor Tournament and Districts. Along the way he earned the nickname of “Meatgrinder” because of his aggressive style.

Delrone Brown has a record of 20 wins and four losses. This qualified him for the Mentor Tournament. Brown’s motto is “Take all you can!” and he means it! Once he sets his mind to something, he is going to go through with it.

Delrone, Shapiro and Demetrius King are seniors this year, so they will be turning over the leadership to the underclass stars, in the hope that they will carry on the Shaw winning tradition.

Coach Morgan looks forward to the 1989-90 season with confidence.

Manager Crystal Levert is a senior this year and as a result will also be leaving. She wishes the best for the car Cardinals of the future and promises to return to help keep records.
How's this for a classic wrestling pose!

We have a golf team? That's a question often asked when golf P.A. announcements are made. The answer is — YES, WE DO! In fact, Cedric Robinson was cited for an L.E.L. honorable mention this year.

Under the direction of Mr. Burnside, the Shaw linksters are back in action. They faced some pretty stiff competition but show great promise for the future.

Coach Burnside said, "We played hard against some pretty tough odds in the L.E.L. I am especially proud of Cedric Robinson and Stephen Hardaway for unmatched improvement in just two short years. We will have a new squad next year. We are beginning to rebuild golf here at Shaw."

Congratulations golfers and good luck in the future!

by Mack and Allen

This year's girl's track team was comprised of mainly freshmen and sophomores. The team has exhibited consistent performance and they are quite competitive.

The team has improved overall, and, with a little luck, we could go to the district meet. We have two good relays and individual stars in shot put and discus, half milers and quarter mile dash people.

Erika Parker, Benita Thomas, Londa Byrd, Robyn Taylor and Kelly Drake must perform well for us to succeed.

The boy's team also shows potential for this season.

Cleveland fans don't miss them at Brown's games but Shaw Students sure would miss them at games. Who? the Cheerleaders, of course! They perk up a dragging game and go wild with excitement when we're ahead. The Shaw Cheerleaders are under the direction of Ms. Valerie Sowell who has this message for the 1988-89 Spirit Boosters.

What It Takes

It takes a lot of courage
It takes some self-control
It takes a lot of work
If you want to reach a goal.

It takes a lot of caring
It takes working as a team
It takes a lot of bending

If you're reaching for a dream.

It takes some painful hours
Of muscles tight with pain
It takes determination
For squads to be the same.

It takes a lot of giving
It takes some rays of hope
It takes encouragement from others
To Know just how to cope.

But when all the skills are learned
your goals are almost done
You look back on all the pain and trouble
And just remember all the fun.

Drums are a key to a top notch marching band

Practice for this year's season started in the sweltering August heat. Detail and formation are tough when it's 100°!

Marching Band Gets into the Swing

The Cardinal Marching Band was busy in 1989 working on improving competitive skills. This year, the band was involved in more competitions in the state and region. One of this year's highlights was a trip to West Virginia where they competed with some of the best marching bands in the country.

"The crowd loved us and really wanted to see us number one," said Band director, Forest McAtee. "We lost out because of size and instrument area; which counts heavily in technical competition. I'm really proud of the band."

Although they missed out on number one, the band placed very high for technical merit. They were the people's choice for overall winner.

It appears that good stiff competition among peers is what drives many bands. Competing is fun and offers an opportunity to show what you've got. The Shaw High Marching Cardinals have a lot!

Excellence is a Tradition for Shaw Music

Most people think first of the marching band when they think of Shaw music but the other bands are just as excellent. The current concert band and ensemble groups are rapidly gaining their own reputation as a force to be reckoned with in the high school music world.

First, there are the Shaw High Instrumental Rhythm Teens, who have already gained a great reputation. In addition to many school and local performances, the Rhythm Teens participated in the Lakeland Jazz Festival. They were also honored as a featured jazz ensemble at the Tri-S Jazz Fest High School Invitational Concert, where they performed with Mr. Rufus Reid, a professional jazz bass player from New York.

Secondly, ensemble and solo groups have improved their skills. At the greater Cleveland and Ohio Region Seven Solo and Ensemble Contest, the groups took "superior" and "excellent" ratings as a group and as solo artists.

The concert band was awarded and excellent rating at the Ohio Region Seven Concert Band Contest held at Kirtland High School. The band performed at school assemblies, held Winter and Spring Concerts, performed at Kirk Middle School and at Shaw graduation ceremonies at the Front Row Theatre.

These groups have established a considerable reputation. Congratulations!
The Shaw Choirs concentrated on performing this year. Their concerts were not only given here at Shaw but throughout the city, where they enhanced Shaw’s reputation.

Early in the school year, the choir was asked to perform at a rally for Presidential candidate Michael Dukakis, which was held on Cleveland’s Public Square. The performance was excellent and the media coverage was outstanding.

For the remainder of the year, the choir continued to perform at a variety of public and private functions, in addition to activities at school.

This year, the choir competed in the Lake Erie League Competition held at Normandy High School.

Keep up the good work, choir! Shaw is proud of you.

Mr. Yarbrough has the rapt attention of all students as he directs.

Concentration and dedication are evident here.

Upward Bound

The Upward Bound Program, which is affiliated with the University of Akron, is designed to prepare students for college through tutorials and enrichment. Students attend tutorial sessions from October to May. The sessions provide extra work in Math and English to simulate a college course load. In addition, the students attend a six week summer program at the University of Akron.

Students selected for the program must demonstrate a desire and ability for college entrance and should be enrolled in college preparatory classes. The advisors are Ms. S. Brown, Mr. J. Thomas, and Ms. L. Drayton.
VICA

VICA, the Vocational Industrial Clubs of America, is a composite of all students who are enrolled in the Trade and Industry Department of Shaw High School. Membership in this organization helps vocational students interact and appreciate each others chosen fields. It also provides a link between the students of Shaw and other vocational schools in the United States.

The Career Awareness Program in Science (CAPS) is a program designed for students who are interested in pursuing careers in the areas of math and science. The program includes advanced science labs at the Tri-C Metro campus, advanced math classes taught by a Case-Western Reserve professor and a spring trip to a major American University. The 1989 trip was to Atlanta. The advisors for CAPS are Mrs. G. Elizey and Mr. G. Massa.

The National Honor Society is composed of a select group of students who exhibit leadership qualities, show good character and participate in service groups. The members of National Honor Society must maintain a 3.30 accumulative grade point average.

As the academic leaders of the school, NHS members are in the spotlight. Many of them belong to a variety of other organizations at Shaw. Most are active within the East Cleveland community. They provide a model of excellence to the underclassmen. The advisor for the 1988-1989 school year was Mrs. P. Simmons.

The "Cardinal Approach" and the "Shuttle" had more in common than just journalism this year. Both acquired a new "look" along with more student writing.

The "Cardinal Approach," under the leadership of Mr. Tolbert, adopted a new format for presenting the news. The results were excellent! Students and staff alike were very positive. The newspaper looks professional and is more extensive in coverage. As editor Sa'Ra'ah Jones says, "We are the backbone of Shaw — with us, Shaw students will know any information needed."

The paper has received an Academic Achievement Award along with a Certificate of Appreciation and a Certificate of Recognition.

The Shuttle yearbook underwent a new look as well.

More pages were added and the book tried to include more events. Students attended a one day workshop in Akron to help them develop skills.

Next year's staff will attend a 4 day workshop at Denison University.

This year's staff tried to bring back the days of a "Shaw" yearbook. They wanted it to represent the school at large while still honoring graduates.
Senior Stylistics

The Stylistics consist of students who have chosen cosmetology as their vocation. It is the culmination of a two year program of intensive training in the science and practice of beauty culture.

Students enjoy many field trips which help enhance their experience in cosmetology. This year’s class will take their state boards in June of 1989.

D.E.C.A.

The Distributive Education Club is an adjunct of the marketing program here at Shaw. This year, the club has been very active with local and district partners.

They began the year with a district kickoff at Punderson State Park. They also took part in competitive events at Lakeland Community College in the spring.

The students also made a number of college and career visits to schools such as John Carroll and Bryant and Stratton.

The 1988-89 year was capped off with an Employer/Employee banquet in the spring and a visit to Geauga Lake in June.
SADD
Students Against Driving Drunk is an abuse prevention group sponsored by Ms. Bev Raheem. Students participate in activities designed to encourage students and adults to avoid alcohol when operating a motor vehicle. For a fund raiser, students sold fighting Cardinal stick pins.

Aiming High
Aiming High is another prevention organization. It is headed by Mr. Clarence Hales. Aiming High works with students to focus on long term success goals rather than seeking immediate release through drugs or alcohol.
Career Beginnings

The Career Beginnings Program is an enrichment program to help students develop future careers. Each student is part of a team which includes the students, a teacher mentor, ministers and business people. The team helps the students develop skills and make plans for the future. The program provides:

- special help with school subjects — workshops on building job skills, planning careers or continuing education after high school
- help finding summer jobs
- training for college tests
- advice about college admission requirements and financial aid opportunities — counseling. The advisors are Ms. June Taylor and Mr. Dennis Herttua.

Canteen Council

Canteen Council assist in planning many of social events at Shaw. Activities have included the homecoming parade, decorating Korb Lounge, school dances, the citywide talent show and various functions honoring students. Council members posses a great deal of school spirit and dedication. It is an honor to be a member. Mrs. Pannell is the advisor.
The 1988-89 OWA I class followed the traditions of the past in being hard working and dedicated to success. Students perform classwork in the morning and are excused to go to related jobs in the afternoon. Mr. Tom Mental is the instructor.

OWA II is an extension of OWA I. Students continue to seek at developing job skills to insure success in the world of work.

The Occupational Work Adjustment class is designed to provide positive experiences for students who may not have previously felt rewarded by coming to school. The class seeks to provide successful and profitable work experience in conjunction with rewarding accomplishments. Students work closely together to provide support and encouragement for all classmates. Mr. Bettis is the coordinator.

Shaw students competed at the city and district level this year. Shaw placed second in the city.

The competition was very rough so Shaw's performance was quite good.

In Mock Trial competition, students actually "try" a case. Some students are attorneys, some are witnesses, bailiffs and other court officials. They are evaluated by real professionals on their knowledge of law procedure, and their ability.

For the students, it's a real learning experience which they are unlikely to forget soon. It's the opportunity to see how the legal system works from the inside — without being in trouble yourself! Most students come away with a positive view of the legal system.

We're proud to salute this year's city and state competitors! They are continuing a tradition of excellence!

"Shaw's the Team to Beat"

In January of '89, the Cleveland Plain Dealer called Shaw the "team to beat" in speech competition in greater Cleveland. This year's team lived up to those expectations by again capturing first place honors at the district tournament. Under the leadership of Cornelius Owens, team president, the Shaw speakers captured more than their share of team sweepstakes and individual honors during the 88-89 season. Although all team members should be proud of their accomplishments, several "special" achievements should be highlighted.

During their years of competition, this year's seniors captured over 25 team awards and 100 individual honors. As a group they have gained the respect of coaches and competitors across the state. Through their activities, they have gained self confidence, poise and a true understanding of the importance of group cooperation.

To all of the graduating seniors we wish continued success. You have all the tools necessary to achieve your goals. It is up to you to build your own future. Thank you for sharing your talents with us — now it's time to share them with the world.

Government & Service

Student Council, Senior Class and Key Club are all under the direction of Mr. George Smith. Mr. Smith has been responsible for helping upperclassmen develop a sense of service and pride while at Shaw.

Student Council represents student government at Shaw. Homeroom reps. and alternates are elected from each room throughout the school.

Senior class reps. and officers are responsible for organizing senior activities such as prom, rings, etc., throughout the year. They offer items for sale in order to raise money for the senior class Treasury.

Key Club is part of a national service organization. They are responsible for planning and organizing service projects in the school and the community.

A joint Student Council Key Club project this year was the Bloodmobile. Shaw staff and students donated blood to help keep community blood banks well supplied.

Becoming a Hi-Liter or Flag Girl at Shaw is a prestigious position. The young ladies chosen for these organizations represent the spirit of the student body. Both organizations, under the direction of Ms. D. Gordan, work with the marching band and must put in long hours of practice to develop their precision and timing.

The Hi-Lighters are a precision dance team. They work closely with the marching band to develop interesting and challenging steps for presentation on the field.

The Flag Girls work in conjunction with the band and Hi-Liters. Their job is to carry the red and black colors of Shaw. They make it look easy although it isn’t! You try to get ten flags waving in the same direction at the same time!

I will always remember the days my baby brought me joy. The day she was born, my baby girl. The times I dressed her up in frilly dresses. The time I came home and found my baby hanging from a tree by her ankle. The times we talked about the “Birds and the Bees.” The times we just sat and talked. Talking about everything and sometimes about nothing. But what I’ll remember most about my baby is she’s mine and I’m proud of her.
I love you Delena!

A Word of Thanks

The yearbook staff would like to thank all who made this book possible. To those who donated pictures, names, etc., to those who gave us events worth recording and especially, to those who wrote their own articles — our thanks.

We’d also like to thank our “Hunter-Josten’s” rep, who learned Hunter Publishing along with us. Thank you, Mark Hays, for your support and encouragement. We look forward to working with you next year. We don’t think you look like a criminal with your mustache!

Thank you to our advisor’s 3rd & 6th period English classes. Your help in typing and in final layouts were invaluable! We hope some of you will take up “yearbooking” next year. A special thanks must be extended to Marcellina Poole for typing, Ben Steele and Warren Grant for layouts, Raymone Bryant for “errands” and Warren Grant, again, for his “Ladybird Cartoons.”

Terrance Mitchell, an art student of Mr. Bullock’s deserves extra mention for his cover and introduction artwork. Terrance, you made it possible for the class of 90 to “Check this out!”

Thanks to Ms. Bonnie O’Leary. Not only did she give us a great speech and drama season — she gave up a Sunday to sit and type our stuff! You are a true friend to the yearbook.

In addition to Ms. O’Leary, there isn’t a teacher at Shaw we don’t owe some degree of gratitude to! You put up with disruptions, distractions and desperate notes with great fortitude. Thanks alone seems so inappropriate — take this book with our love. You made it possible!

We have to thank Doug, Robin, Tom and all the great photographers from Raimor Studio. You like us, you helped us and you made us look good!

Finally, the people who REALLY helped us — Mr. Alix, Oliver Hunley, Wayne, and the people in inventory control — Mrs. Dial & Lerry Springer. Without the film, the advice, the photographs and the deliveries of material — WE WOULD NOT BE!

To the yearbook staff, from your advisor — THANKS for believing in a school yearbook and starting us on the road to producing one. We learned together. Your fairness, your sense of right and your SHAW SPIRIT are your best attributes. You helped create a sense of importance about “THE BOOK.” You wrote and published a book this year. Did You check us out? Did you like what you saw? This yearbook took a lot of work and we hope you cherish it forever. It contains many memories that will always be treasured by Shaw Students.

This was a successful and happy school year for most students. It was filled with action packed activities and excitement. There were happy times and a few sad times. We hope you will keep this yearbook and reflect back on it years from now and remember the way we were. Also, try to remember this quote from Ayanna Williams: “Like a vine on a tree, Shaw has grown on me!”

Monique Whiteside acts cute and innocent with her smooth haircut.
