It Only Gets Better with Time
Raising the flag, hearing the band and cheering at football games are good at any time!

Shaw's varsity basketball team as they were in 1987. They sure got better!
It gets better with time. Time equals change and there is always a lot of that at Shaw High School. People — and schools — grow, change and mature. Generally, life is better now than before but traditions get better as with time as well. Come. Explore 1991 with us. It gets better with time.

Getting into the spirit of homecoming is Chuck Battle. Below, did you know there have been 3 buildings for Shaw High even before the Academy building was erected in 1904? Here are pictures of those three buildings dating from 1835 to the late 1800’s. The Academy building is just a baby!
Each student moves through the school day and the school year with various activities and lulls in time marking the passage of high school. And as each student deals with his or her priorities and values, a social life begins to revolve around school activities and events.

From the first days of school when Homecoming is discussed and class leaders begin urging people to help with floats to the last hectic days of graduation, the school year is full of many activities.

Part of student life is simply acknowledging that not all learning takes place in the classroom. Student life in its various expressions is also a way to learn many of the skills needed in life.

From the responsibility of seeing a project through, to working after hours, to putting in extra time to work for your school, these are the kinds of qualities which will make the difference between leaders and followers as well between success and failure.

Seeing a deadline through isn't always fun, but doing things well is a sure way to promote self-motivation and self-growth. Being involved means being at the heart of life.

Student life? It's just that students learning through living at Shaw High.
Beautiful Senetta Mays and handsome Charles Battle served as King and Queen, while the band played.
A Time To Shine

The 1990 Homecoming brought change in tradition at Shaw High. For the first time in memory the court included the entire school and not just seniors. Ms. Brenda Herbert, a member of the homecoming committee said, “The change was made to involve the whole school in the excitement of homecoming.” King Chuck and Queen Senetta ruled over a beautiful day and a night of magic. The Cardinals convincingly beat the enemy Cleveland Heights under a blue sky while the evening gala went beautifully as planned.

The parade, the game and the dance were among the best Shaw has had in recent years.

The Hi-Liters get ready for the parade while runners up Seretta Williams and Antuan Hammond are presented on the field.
Everybody, from team to Mr. and Ms. Vocational to students came.
The team took the game away from Cleveland Heights, while the candidates for King and Queen took our hearts away! At left: Antoine and Tameka Robinson show their stuff.
Laquisha and Monique have been friends since the third grade. "Although we will go our separate ways, the love, the understanding and remembrances will linger."

A few years ago we started this feature as a filler. Little did we know it would become so popular with Shaw students. At age three, it is becoming a tradition. Shaw students want to tell the world "We’re friends!"

Friends in high school, sometimes even more than those later in our lives, are very important because they help us develop into the people we are about to become. These people are always there for us, giving us support and sharing special moments in our lives. They are part of the good things as well as the bad and everyone has said at one time or another, "Thanks for being there for me."

When a special day turns out to be rainy, your car won’t start, you have five tests (of which you have studied for only two), your parent’s are on your case, and you still don’t have a date for an important event like the prom, your best friend will understand — they’ll even make you feel better!

Friends always have a certain way of understanding just what our feelings are. They are there right by our side. They share in our hopes, dreams and accomplishments.

They remember the day you started going out with your boyfriend (or girlfriend), as well as the fights that caused "The Breakup". And these terrific people don’t just remember these things. They are a part of them! They start making you feel better right away!

That’s why students at Shaw High are eager to tell the world — "This is my best friend!"
Raquel & Stacy: “Stace is my ace. Always eager to lift my spirits,” says Raquel. Stacy feels her friend is there to lean on, clown or frown with. Studying the violin is what brought friends LaShawna and Angelina together. “We’re best friends today and tomorrow!”

Renita & Carla met in seventh grade. “We are like sisters, together in good times and bad.” Joy and Donnie say they have had “enough good times to last a lifetime.” That’s a lot of fun to pack into 3 years!
Regina, Lesonia and Anita feel they are uniquely compatible. "We finish each other's sentences!" They spend time shopping, going to the movies and, what else, TALKING!

Roshelle and Deanna feel that a good friend should tell you what you need to hear — not just what you want to hear. They are there for each other when one needs comfort.

Shaundra, Seretta and Cynthia never let anyone or anything get in the way of their friendship. They enjoy treating each other to lunch, shopping and — they even like arguing!
Alla and Tamara are like night and day and yet alike. It adds spice to their friendship. They understand each other and together they’re unique. Cha’Nel & Tricia have been friends through good and bad times. Lisa, Demisha, Tonda and Antoine are like brother and sisters. A happy family!
Javera & Kristina intend to remain friends for a long time — good friends are hard to find! They know each other’s heart. Jenny & Chandra have a mutual understanding of each other. There is a chain that can’t be broken.
Keisha & Felicia feel old friends are true gold and each feels they have some! Shawntyle, Latonya and Felicia believe honesty is the key to their friendship. Third person relationships are difficult to maintain.

Donna & Stonequa (p. 14) think true friends are rare and best friends even more so. They're happy to have each other. Tamara, Taressa and Venita share their problems. That's why they're friends.
Monte feels isolated from his parents played by Meredith and Terrance. "Gang Leader" Johnny gets down, above, and challenges Monte at n.
Rebel Without a Cause

This year's play, 'Rebel Without a Cause' went smoothly as planned. Starring in the production was Monte Wade, Sacha Bennett, Nichelle Porter and Johnny Davenport with excellent support given by the rest of the cast. Many teachers, parents and students enjoyed the thrilling drama.

Although the original movie with James Dean goes back to the fifties, the story is still timely for today's teens. Furthermore, the topics of teenagers "growing pains" and "gangs" were easy to relate to our time.

Ms. Linda Goldstein directed the play for the 1990-91 school year. She was very successful in directing Rebel. She also made great character selections.

We at Shaw would like to thank all students, parents, teachers and administrators for supporting a worthy "cause", A job well done — especially on the part of the cast.

Marcie Higgins

At left, Marcie seeks help for Ricardo at a social agency. Agency workers Nichelle and Bedra look over clients Monte, Sacha, Ricardo and Marcie.

Monte has just been wounded in his battle with Johnny.
Obviously the audience enjoyed the show! At right, S. Carolina students get into the spirit of performing.
Al Fulton Revisits Shaw High

Shaw High seniors had an opportunity to hear some college level jazz when Al Fulton, former Shaw teacher and Rhythm Teen director, brought the S. Carolina State College Jazz ensemble to Ohio.

Selections included a variety of vocals and instrumentals and also featured audience participation.

While students enjoyed the concert, the college students were impressed with Shaw, its students and, particularly, The Captain’s Quarter’s where they had lunch.

A great time. A great concert.

Can that be our own Mr. Alvis jammin’ away with the ensemble? Like Bo — Alvis knows! Below left, participation was one of the assembly’s most enjoyable features.

Ms. Pam Smith introduces Mr. Fulton to a new generation of Shaw.

African Americans, many who had attended Shaw High, were a large part of the fighting force in Iraq. Most students personally knew someone there.
On January 15, 1991, allied forces began the war against Iraq's Saddam Hussein. The war divided many Americans but, we learned from Vietnam, support for the troops themselves was strong. A number of African American leaders, notably, Jesse Jackson, felt the war was wrong. The number of African Americans in the desert was disproportionate to the population. As press time, a ceasefire was in effect. No matter what your view of the war, all Americans are happy to say welcome home to our troops.

This book is dedicated to the men and women alumni of Shaw High School who fought in Operation Desert Storm Welcome Home!

To look at the people walking the halls of Shaw High you might wonder what they all have in common. They could be strangers but they are all united as students and teachers.

Once that fact is recognized, something magical happens. Suddenly the school is full of interesting individuals each with their own story and each with a future.

The people don’t belong to Shaw High School — they are Shaw High School. When they succeed, it is Shaw’s success — when they fail, it is our failure.

Shaw is a school, as are others, where people are at various stages of growth and maturity. Where people are peaking to success and some are experiencing failure. No matter what level they are on — they are Shaw.
Seniors!

One Goal
Different Talents

Unique in its diversity. That statement seems to sum up the Shaw High School Class of 1991. We are a class with a variety of talents, athletic, academic and personal.

Our basketball team made the city finals. The football team won the L.E.L. crown and had a perfect season for the first time ever. Wrestlers Marc Graham and Brandon Simpson did extremely well this season. Brandon won the East West All Star meet and Marc qualified for state finals.

We not only dominated in the field of athletics, we were strong academically. Everald Manning won the grand prize in the Science Fair. Marla Clinkscales and Charita Coats placed fourth in the state in speech with Donna McGee being a semifinalist. Our Mock Trial team placed third in the state.

We have shown the ability to change and adapt. We rolled with the changes in homecoming, units and principals and gave each the support that was needed.

In short, we are a diverse class but we are all reaching for a similar goal — a successful and happy life.

Good luck to everyone in the Class of 1991. We hope you achieve your goal.
Seniors Charita Coats and Nichelle Porter, above, students in Ms. Blaha's English class were winners in the Urban League Black History Essay contest. Judges said both essays were well written and developed.

Donald Goolsby didn't really mind pledging the flag but he wanted one to pledge to! He wrote to Louis Stokes who sent Donald and Shaw a flag flown over the Capitol Building in Washington. Donald was in Ms. Raynor's government class.

Top's of 1991

The following seniors had a g.p.a. of 3.3 or better as of March 31, 1991. Congratulations!

The 1991 Senior Poll

When is the senior poll? It seemed the question would never be answered. Student’s begged: teacher’s moaned and suddenly, it was here! One of the favorite senior events is the SENIOR POLL! This has gotten better! We couldn’t find one candidate this year for "Flyest 'Fro" or "Widest bell bottoms". No. We found out who was in style with the senior poll! Here are your results!
Darrien "Boo" Smith, Shortest Male, seems stunned by the height of Tallest Female, Michelle Fielder. If we know Boo, he'll adjust! Below a sight to make any dentist beam with pride — our Prettiest Smile winners, Felicia Walker and Tryreno Sowell.

"Who's that flirting with my boyfriend?"
Probably the beautiful Venus Taylor, Biggest Flirt, the "Goddess" seems to be debating who to accept as a prom date!
WOW! Biggest Flirt Moniere Wint, can’t believe his luck! Look at all those pretty girls! At right, Best Physique winners, Stacy Ward and Maurice Gayles show us why they won. Need we say more?
If clothes make the man, they must make the woman as well. At right, Best Dressed winners, Herbert Shaw and Deanna McKissack.

Look at those eyes! The class of 91 thought the Prettiest Eyes belonged to Desiree Golden and Leonard Sharp. Top students Jantah Summerille and Everald Manning won Most Likely to Succeed. Jantah excels in science.
Need a friend? Check out Donald Goolsby and Cha'Nei Peoples. Their classmates thought they were the Friendliest. Above right, Do Shawntyle and Alan think each other is cute or do they think they are cute. They are the Most Conceived. At right, are the Most Popular kids in the class of 91, Charles Battle and Senetta Mays.
Aarion Terry can't believe the juicy piece of gossip she just got from fellow Biggest Gossip winner, Ronald Roseboro. Did you ever see Class Clown winner Lanel Hill look so serious? Donetha Calloway can't believe it! At left, Herb Shaw, Most Attractive doesn't seem to mind sharing the title with co-winners Stacy and Raquel.

Some New Faces
Some New Challenges

Every new school year brings with it some changes. New faces appear in the yearbook to replace the old. This year Shaw has gone and will go through some major changes.

Principal Steve Lloyd opened the school year and the second semester. All went smoothly until he was seriously injured in an automobile accident. The injury required a period of extensive recuperation. At press time, he was still unable to return. The Shaw family wishes him well and hopes for a speedy recovery.

Pamela Smith was named interim principal and did an excellent job in a tough situation. She is to be commended as is the Shaw staff, for a fine job.

Next year promises more changes. A number of people are retiring, a number will be laid off and others will assume new duties. We wish the best to all staff members. You deserve only the best!
Guess what Shaw High School? The Class of 1991 not only had excellent students but many of the teachers received recognition. This is something that tells everyone that Shaw is a great place to go to school. From education to sports, Shaw teachers have shown excellence.

Ms. Lori Urogdy, Ohio Teacher of the Year and a National Social Studies Teacher says winning the award hasn’t changed her at all but it does give her confidence in her style of teaching. She feels that Shaw students are bright, talented and caring. Her advice to students is to give the best to the world and you will get the best back.

Interim principal, Pam Smith, a seventeen year veteran won the coveted John Vaughn Excellence in Education Award. Winning the award made her proud to represent Shaw High. In her opinion, Shaw students have the ability to make the best of every opportunity.

Nylajean McDaniel, English curriculum specialist, is a recipient of a Fellowship from Kent State University. She receives a stipend towards tuition which will allow her to continue work on her doctorate. She will be working with graduate students in education while continuing to work at Shaw.

Carol Blaha, English teacher, is the 1991 Jennings Scholar. As a result, Ms. Blaha will be attending Oxford University this summer. The nominee develops a project and then is given money to develop that project. Have a great time in England!

In addition to receiving a number of local honors, football coach Tom Mental is the Northeast Ohio Coach of the Year. This is in recognition of leading our Big Red to a 10-0 record. The Cardinals once again own the L.E.L. crown.

Walt Killian, who probably coached one of the best teams in Shaw history, is co-L.E.L. Coach of the Year and the outright Coach of the Year in greater Cleveland. Coach Killian will have the honor of leading some of Cleveland’s finest in the All Star Game.

S.H.S. is flooded with talent and, in 1991 teachers and administrators showed it! Congratulations, Shaw High!

One More Year!

A major clue that gives away a junior is that glint in their eyes when class rings and cap & gown announcements are made. They begin to look at colleges and make decisions regarding their futures. It’s a major decision and many juniors look for help.

Real juniors should be looking at prepping for college early! It is advised that they take the PSAT early in the junior year so they can be ready to face the big one. Some juniors also take the ASVAB which gives them a better feel for where their strengths are.

One of the biggest advantages to being a junior is the fact that people begin to recognize you as an adult. Parents begin to give you some space and many juniors have their license which adds to that new feeling of maturity.

Junior year. One more year to go! Good Luck!

Settling In!

No longer a rookie but not yet an upperclassman, sophomore year is a time in limbo.

The wonder and novelty of high school have worn off, but not everyone looks upon tenth grade as a bore. Being a sophomore has possibilities and it is as exciting as one makes it.

First of all, freshman year is a chance to meet people and sophomore year is a chance to make those ties stronger. New friendships are made while old ones grow or drift apart.

Sophomore year is a time to grow up and get it together. A time for getting involved in sports, drama, speech or a club. But whatever anyone does, driving there beats walking there or having to rely on the “Chauffer”!

Sophomore year is a rung on life’s ladder. Whether it is painted bright or dark depends on the individual.
Far right, Mellaney Seay, shown with friend NiQuisha Harris, received recognition from the CSU Black Aspiration Student Leadership Committee. At rt. second year man, Kevin Epps is sure happy doing that assignment. Below, what else?

HOMEROOM!
A Brand New Class

Freshmen, however, do have to watch their step the first few months. Coming from the junior high and being the big bad eighth graders, not everyone realizes how hard it can be. There are three classes ahead of you and they know the ropes — you don’t.

Some frosh learn it the hard way.

After a few weeks, the upperclassmen develop better things to do with their time and stop the teasing.

Classes are much further apart than they were at Kirk and the lunchrooms are more crowded. This means less time to talk to junior high friends and sometimes allows for new friendships.

Ninth grade. It’s fun but frustrating!
The ninth grade Transitions program is designed to get students off to a good start at Shaw. The students learn the building, learn the rules and, hopefully, learn to be better students. Part of the program calls for recognition of a job well done. During the third quarter, ninth grade teachers asked to recognize students for excellence. Here are six of the honorees of 1991. Congratulation.

Ninth graders need to learn that classwork comes first.

Working together makes the burden easier to bear. Ninth graders share work and supplies.
Transitions Field Trip!

This year, the Transitions program had a special project for ninth graders. Funding was acquired to send every ninth grader to a "survival" day. At first many students were apprehensive, but as classes returned, the excitement picked up.

Students went with their social studies classes and the purpose was to enhance their realm of experience and to bind them together as a group.

That sounds awfully educational! This looks like fun!
While there are many activities in any high school, the main reason for its existence still remains the learning which is the main job of all who attend it.

At Shaw High School students and teachers have felt the pressure sweeping across the country concerning the quality of American Education. With Ohio Proficiency Testing taking place this year, all were reminded of how seriously the state and the country are taking education these days.

No longer is a literate, intelligent populace guaranteed. Each student and each teacher feels the need to prove the so called experts wrong. There is quality education going on at Shaw High School. Teachers are asking more of their students. Students are also feeling the need to stretch their minds and apply themselves to class work. All this — to get that magic diploma.

Shaw students and teachers are working together to learn about the past, meet the needs of today and prepare for the future.

The class of 1908
Proficiency Testing Comes to Shaw

It started in November, Upperclassmen could not get in to the Academy Bldg. in the A.M. Classes were moved, lockers restricted. Why? Ohio ninth grade proficiency testing.

The testing is a new measure by the state. Effective in 1994, passage of the test will determine the type of diploma you get. If you don’t pass the test — you won’t get any! You’ll receive a certificate of attendance. Widely debated, the test is currently in effect.

Ninth graders did not perform well on the test. Many did not take it seriously. Those who failed had a chance to correct their errors in early March when the test was given to the entire school to get a baseline. Most upperclassmen did take the test seriously even though it does not affect them because they were aware of our law rankings.

Test results are not in at time of publication.

Senior Brandon Simpson appears to be sleeping but is calculating a problem. These two ladies from Ms. McNair’s first period are happy results do not affect them.
Boo Smith works on social studies while freshman Kevin Downey does math. Senior Kareem Samad is thinking, "Who else would wear a baseball cap with a shirt and tie and succeed?"
SHAW BAND!

Shaw's band took a new direction this year under the direction of Mr. Ralph Brown, the new director.

Mr. Brown brings some changes with him which should benefit the band.

The Shaw band not only performs at Shaw but is also in great demand in a variety of parades and functions throughout the Greater Cleveland area. It is one of the most respected groups in the city.

Mock Trial Scores Again

Shaw’s Mock Trial Team, amazing winner’s in the past found gold again at state. This year’s team placed third in the state to assure Shaw an important winners position.

The team, coached by award winner Lori Urogdy, won several degrees of distinction at the local and state levels. Winners are pictured here.

Congratulations, Mock Trial. Keep up Shaw’s winning record. You Let the world know what Shaw is able to do!

Sophomore Jocelyn Brumfield won the award of Best Witness at the state tournament.

Queen Donya Moreland is crowned.

JROTC has successfully completed its twelfth year at Shaw High School. During the 1990-91 school year, the JROTC cadets participated in their annual dining in, military ball and inspection. They also selected the 90-91 queen, Donya Moreland.

The students of JROTC also took part in a number of school and community events.

During the Thanksgiving season, cadets distributed food and gifts to needy area families as well as marching in Shaw High School’s annual homecoming parade.

The cadets are what keeps the JROTC program going. Its goal is to produce leaders and it has done just that. JROTC will remain a lasting Shaw tradition.

Felita Law
This year, Shaw has claimed two new science courses: botany and genetics.

Botany is the study of plants and it proved not only interesting but fun as well. Different experiments were conducted such as: can plants grow in the cold or dark or how long does it take for leaves to grow on a plant.

Genetics is the study of genes. Did you ever wonder why you look as you do? What will determine how your children look? If you ponder questions like these then genetics is the course for you.

Both of these classes are a semester long but you can pick up a lot of information!
Building a Future
Construction Tech Offers Skills

We’ve all heard the story about the man who built a boat in the basement then couldn’t get it out! How about the class that built a HOUSE in the basement of the vocational building!

Construction technology, Shaw’s newest vocational program, did just that! The project allowed students to put new skills into practice and really test their ability. Although on a small scale, the house is real from the foundation to the roof. It will even have electricity and running water.

Instructor Lloyd Richardson feels there is a real market for qualified construction workers, in the Cleveland area. He intends to develop some of the best!
The students began by laying the foundation of the house. Bricks must be just right.

Mr. Richardson: ready to raise the roof and get going on the outside.

The floor is left exposed so state inspectors can be sure it's up to code.
Students from mostly historical colleges for CWRU.

Above and right, speakers and field trips were part of the month.
Once again, Shaw students were offered a wide variety of activities to celebrate Black History Month.

The Library offered a number of speakers and programs which filled rapidly. With the advent of Channel One, even more students were able to participate. Glory and the Eyes on the Prize television series were broadcast to any class which wanted to view.

In addition to the library speakers, a number of speakers and seminars were offered in the classroom. Classes would pair up and share space in order to facilitate more students. A number of field trips were scheduled to the African American Museum and the Cleveland Museum of Art.

Korb Lounge was also an active center during the month. A high point was a display of African Art and jewelry which were handcrafted. Students and teachers were able to purchase jewelry and accessories.

February is a special month at Shaw. Although we try to emphasize the contributions and achievements of African Americans all year long, the month of February is an opportunity to take a special look and to celebrate and reflect on the African American experience.
Jarita Somerville was the recipient of the prestigious Martin Luther King Award for 1991. An excellent student, she is involved in many activities at Shaw and at home.

At school, Jarita is the president of the National Honor Society. She is also active in the CAPS program and Peer to Peer. She is the student representative for the East Cleveland Schools Project 2000 program.

Jarita's active life doesn't end when she gets home. She is an active member of the Corinthian Baptist Church and serves as president of its Candy Stripper and Junior Nurse Guild. She is also a volunteer at the Cleveland Children's Museum.

The MLK Award is one of several that she has recently received. She was a recipient of the YWCA Bright Future Award and was a semi-finalist in the McDonald's Black History Makers of Tomorrow Program. She has also been recognized by the Ohio Space Scientists of Tomorrow Program.

Jarita was an excellent choice. She excels in her work and takes the time to serve others. She is respected by her peers and teachers who are very proud of her. We think Dr. King would be honored to have her win this award.
Consciousness is a student production sponsored by the African Advancement Association. It was written by Teanna Copeland and directed by Rashimba Townsend.

Consciousness is not a traditional stage play but rather an event designed to raise consciousness. The production is divided into four separate scenes. One presents famous African Americans from the past and the students interpret their work and songs. The second is a scene where students verbalize why they do not feel they can pledge the flag. Scene three is a dance scene where African accomplishments are emphasized. The fourth scene celebrates African music and dance.

Rashimba, Teanna and the other students involved have devoted a great deal of time to this. We are sure the production will be great! Thanks to Ms. Shaheed and Ms. Raheem for their help.

Prepping for the Future
College Career and Vocational Fairs

Annual events at Shaw help students focus on making better choices for the future. The college Fair offered students the opportunity to talk with people actively involved in education and careers. The college Fair, held for juniors and seniors, hosted many schools this year. Students were able to talk to school recruiters and obtain applications. For many this was their first contact with a college representative. Seniors Cynthia Gaston and Tamara Gordon found the experience helpful. Cynthia would like to be an X-ray technician and was able to find out more about her future career. Tamara Gordon felt the fair was very good and found the information helpful.

Ninth graders had an opportunity to attend a career fair organized by ninth grader counselor, Carolyn Smith. People from a wide variety of careers and occupations attended. A special incentive to students was the fact that a majority of the exhibitors were former Shaw students who came to give back to the community.

Vocational students and teachers put on the annual vocational fair to share their programs with underclassmen. Underclassmen were treated to displays and exhibits in Business, DHO, Food Service, Cosmetology and other Trade and Industry departments. Seeing what actually goes on in classes allows students to make better choices for future careers.

A great deal of work and planning goes into outing on all three events. The hard work of all involved are making things better at Shaw.

What pushes an athlete to strive for excellence or begin training for an event several months before official practices begin? What makes them want to be the best?

Pride. Athletics at Shaw have been built around this single word for over one hundred years. Pride in your work, your preparation and your performance. Pride in the Red and Black that stands out in the winners circle. Pride in the Cardinal who captures the crown.

To push until there is no more — that is the true meaning of athletics. That meaning is present here at Shaw. Each athlete instills a certain pride and deter — into their performance. Whether it be a basketball player on the court, a swimmer on the block or a golfer on the green, the final push to victory is always there.

The pride to be their best. To win like true winners and never say die. To never give up and never give in. That is what athletic pride has meant at Shaw. Whether pride is in a team or an individual, what is most important is giving one’s best to the effort. The success is in the performance.

The Shaw High Baseball Team of 1904.
Super Cardinals Go Ten and Oh!!

This year's Big Red football team got better by going 10-0 for the first time ever. The record led to the LEL crown — but — unfortunately, not to the state play-offs.

Practices began in August and the Big Red players certainly learned as much as they sweated off! These men prepared themselves and each other for the tough season ahead.

Tom Mental again stepped into the head coaching job and this year the Cardinals performed their best ever. The Cardinals scored a dramatic 351 points while allowing only 64. The average points scored per game were 35, the highest since 1957. The team scored stunning victories over all L.E.L. competition.

The Cardinals face a tough season next year as over 30 seniors leave the team. Coach Mental and his staff have done an excellent job. The players and the coaches are truly helping Shaw "Get Better with Time".

The Players Perspective

The "Big Red" came off a perfect 10-0 season. Overall, we were 6-0 in the Lake Erie League Championships for the third straight year.

This season was the most productive season ever. Not only did we go undefeated, we set two school records.

Our defense this season was outstanding. The Big Red defense held all 10 opponents to a combined total 64 points. In ten games, that was an average of 6.4 points a game. The defense was led by Allen Moore, William Triplett, Martin Williams, Dale Jackson, Racheling Switzer, and DeAndre Houston.

We had a high powered offense that was led by seniors Dale Jackson, Leonard Sharp, Darelle Joiner, and junior DeAndre Houston. The offense moved and scored at will. This led us to score the most points in Shaw's history 351 points. This was also contributed by the strong offensive line.

Our team also had great special teams which led to the success of our team. They pinned the opponents deep in their own territory and gave us excellent field position when it was needed. The special team was led by James Clark, Todd Wallace, and Lateef Saffore.

We had a great team that resulted in us being ranked number 2 in the Greater Cleveland Poll for four straight weeks, and also ranked in the state wide poll.

The Big Red Football team would like to thank all the coaches for all their hard work which went into this PERFECT SEASON!!

The volleyball team had a tough season this year ending with a record of 2-18. There were some bright moments however, worthy of recognition.

LaTonia Stiner was chosen most valuable player for her hard work and dedication. Best Setter was Kelly Lewis. The Coach’s Award went to Lisa Ashford and Cathy White was voted Most Improved. Best all around was Noura Johnson. Three year veteran, Ndeda Letson, won the scholastic award.

Players were not only recognized at Shaw but in the L.E.L. as well. Lisa Ashford was honored as All L.E.L. while Noura Johnson received honorable mention, Noura was also an All Star in the Akron Buchtel Tournament.
The varsity team included: L. Ashford, N. Johnson, N. Letson, C. White, C. Davis, T. Howard, C. Lockett, D. Drummond.

An Excellent Season!

BANG! They’re off — winding their way through parks, on beaches and up ungodly hills! It’s the Shaw High Cross country team!

Shaw’s cross country team had an excellent season posting 13 wins and 10 losses, beating last year’s record high of 12. This achievement can, in part be credited to the return of four year runners Everald Manning, Kareem Samad and Rausheem Thompson. They, along with 6 other returning lettermen formed the basis of a good team with excellent discipline and leadership.

The team’s best moment came when they won the North Coast Invitational Tournament. Larry Griffie had a personal moment of triumph when he qualified for the National T.A.C. Junior Olympics. No other runner from Shaw has ever qualified for this distinction.

The Cardinal runners are rapidly becoming known in the district as a well-established high profile team. Their sharp new uniforms befit their position!

Swimmers, J. Hill, B. Bartley, V. Thompson, S. Belle, D. Fields, D. Graves, A. Borders, R. Smith, M. Hale

Shaw's swim team was coached by Van Williams and assistant Craig Johnson. The team captain was Jason Hill along with co-captain Andre Borders.

The swim team improved from the beginning. Seniors Jason Hill, Vanita Thompson and Maurice Hale showed dedication that paved the way and showed leadership for the young, inexperienced team.

While Shaw's pool was in repair, the swimmers practiced at Cleveland State. The CSU swimmers really helped us learn new points and skills. This has helped to build a tie that will be life-long.

Our incentive was further enhanced by the commitment shown by the CWRU swimmers, where we held our home meets while the pool was in repair . . .

The Swim team season is not one that can be measured by the won-lost record. It can only be proved by the individual improvement — competitive and scholastic.

Vanita Thompson was the sole Lady Cardinal. She could not compete at the state level because Shaw does not have an official girls swim team. Knowing this, she showed great determination and dedication throughout the season.

Shaw has three honorable scholastic swimmers. They are Quentin Ware-Bey, Flousey Caver and Damon Greaves.

A new school record was set in the 200 yard relay by sophomore Steve Bell, Andre Borders, junior Brian Bartley, and senior Jason Hill. Awards for most improved were given to Damon Greaves and Quentin Ware Bey.

The swimmers are to be commended for great-season. They showed great effort, determination and overcame many obstacles.

Good luck to the future and keep up the good work!

Shaw’s varsity basketball team had yet another outstanding season. The freshman team also did an outstanding job and won the Freshmen L.E.L. crown. The varsity’s 17-3 season earned them the district second place position.

Led by seniors Chuck Battle, Antoine Parker, Rodney Richardson and Andra Smith, the Cardinals provided their fans with a lot of exciting play. They were an aggressive team who played solid basketball.

Battle, Parker and Richardson were chosen as All Stars. In addition, Antoine Parker was a Plain Dealer Player of the Week and one of the city’s leading scorers.

Coach Killian, a longtime Shaw tradition was honored by his peers as the Greater Cleveland Coach of the Year. He will coach the All Star Game.

Congratulations Cardinal players, Coach Killian and Coaches Kirk Mack and Leon Hines. Thank you for a thrilling basketball season.

Spring sports always suffer in a spring delivery book. Our final deadline is before their season begins. An early Easter Break also hurt. Here are some of Shaw’s finest athletes — the men and women’s track team.

It was a tough year for the very young Ladybirds as they ended the season with an 8-13 record. Sometimes you’re up — sometimes you’re down.

Award winning coach, Edith Spivey did see some good moments with her players although losing two key players to leg injuries was not among her favorite memories.

Senior Torris Moore and LaTonia Stiner were ranked All L.E.L. by L.E.L coaches. Coach Spivey also had some awards to distribute. Torris Moore, the lone senior, received the Leading Scorer Award and Shauna Nevel got Leading Rebounder. The Coach’s Award went to LaTonia Stiner and Cathy White. Camille Davis won Most Improved.

A tough season, Ladybirds. We know you’ll be back in ’92

The team included: B. Curry, C. Davis, T. Cleveland, S. Nevel, K. Mills, T. Moore, Y. Jackson, T. Hamilton, C. Glover, T. Chambers, A. Hendricks, S. Hunter,

The Shaw High Cardinals Red and Black Attack Pack had an excellent season. The team finished on a winning note by winning a team forfeit against Lakewood boosting their record to 4 wins and 3 losses in dual meets. Wins were against Glenville, Parma, Normandy and Lakewood. Losses were to Heights, Shaker and Valley Forge.

In tournament play, the Cardinals did an exceptional job under the circumstances. Injuries kept about half the team out. The freshmen were called in to help the ailing varsity squad.

S haw Get Fired Up!

The cheerleaders, under the direction of Ms. Valerie Sowell, had a number of reasons to use that cheer this year.

First of all, they started off with the football team with their 10-0 record. Next, they cheered the boys basketball team to the city championships. Those teams were easy to cheer. The hard games were the same that didn't go well. (Pardon our pun!)

The true sign of a really involved cheerleader is the ability to inspire the crowd when the home team is losing. This years group did an excellent job! They helped Shaw get better!

Clubs — the world would definitely not be the same without them. They give people the chance to share common interests. Through common interests friendships are formed.

Each club has a different purpose but they all have one common goal; to excel in whatever they do. While many clubs are created to help others, such as Key Club and Peer to Peer, most are mainly interest groups.

One of the greatest advantages to clubs is the knowledge and experience gained. People get to share their ideas and opinions while gaining insight from others. When a club sponsors a project, it gives the members a chance to learn a small portion of what the real world may be like.

Not only do you learn about others but also yourself. You form opinions and learn how to express them. Being around other people, you learn to react to different personalities. Such knowledge can only be helpful in the real world.

When it seems meetings are becoming tedious, try to imagine life at Shaw without clubs. We hope you appreciate them all.

The Shaw Flags & Hi-Liters at home and away.
Flags & Hi-Liters

What would a football game or parade be without the flash of the Hi-Liters or the precision of the Flags? The music would still be great, the would be won and the afternoon just as sunny, but the sparkle would be gone!

Shaw’s Flags and Hi-Liters have been making it better at Shaw for some time now. Every year new faces come, the old ones go but the tradition of excellence continues.

The 90-91 Flag & Hi-Liter advisor was Ms. Dacia Gordon. Thanks for all your work!
A student adds up work on a Black History month board. A trip to view African art.

African Advancement Association

The African Advancement Association has rapidly become an active, vibrant association at Shaw. Now in its second year, the group has made its presence felt through meetings, trips, bulletin boards and, this year, sponsoring a student production called Consciousness. This year the group also helped organize programs for the Black History Month celebration.

As the name implies, its purpose is to advance the culture, history and people of Africa. It has already made a solid start to help Shaw "Get Better"!

Towards Self Leadership

There are organizations at Shawn which are designed to develop leadership and service. They are the student council, Key Club and Canteen Council.

Canteen Council is run by the new director of Korb Lounge, Ms. Valerie Sowell. Ms. Sowell, formerly of the main office staff has been the cheerleader advisor at Shaw for a number of years. She brings a new zest and enthusiasm to the job.

Student Council and Key Club are under the direction of Mr. George Smith. Key Club is a service organization. One annual activity is the collection of food for the needy at the holidays. Student Council represents student government at Shaw.

The King & Queen are presented in Korb Lounge. Below, Canteen Council.

VICA, Vocational Industrial Clubs of America, is made up of students in the Trade and Industry programs at Shaw. The majority of the members belong to cosmetology and auto body due to the hard work of Ms. Shirley Boyd and Mr. Roosevelt Williams.

Membership in this organization helps students interact with each other and with other students in the field. It allows students, on occasion, to meet with other schools and see how their own program rates.

This group is one of the most active and vibrant at Shaw.
The Senior Stylistics, second year cosmetology students. Below, DECA, the vocational club of marketing.
Being in a vocational class is a little different from being in an academic class. For one thing, you have already made the choice of what you want to be; secondly, you are already working with people who have the same interests you have and want to do the same things in life. This is the reason behind vocational clubs.

Students in vocational clubs are somewhat different from the average vocational student. Club memberships require a certain amount of time, money and effort.

On these pages are students from four vocational clubs. Our picture of the accounting club and that of senior FHA did not turn out. Junior Food Service, Marketing and Cosmetology are represented.

Shaw’s Captain’s Quarter’s Culinary team placed third at the regional meet. Congratulations!
Peer to Peer
Upward Bound
New Faces, New Directions

Shaw High is the home of a variety of organizations designed to help the student while in school and in life. Peer to Peer is designed to help students while in school. Upward Bound is designed to help students prepare for life after Shaw.

Peer to Peer is a student led support group advised by Ms. Judith Young. Student leaders are trained to help their fellow classmates with a variety of problems; parents, school and substance related. Students are trained in order to be the best they can be and Ms. Young selects only the most reliable students.

The Upward Bound Programs, designed to help students prepare for college, welcomed a number of freshmen this year. There are two Upward Bounds; one is affiliated with the University of Akron, the other with Case Western Reserve. Both prepare students for college but the Case Program is designed for students who seek medical careers.
Planning for a Future
Career Beginnings, JOGS, TOTS, CAPS

A primary purpose of high school is to prepare students for the future. In addition to regular classes, Shaw offers a variety of programs to help students prepare. They are CAPS, JOGS, Career Beginnings and Teachers of Tomorrow.

All programs are designed to help students focus on future career choices. CAPS deals with careers in science while Career Beginnings deals with business related futures. Teachers of Tomorrow is for the student who plans on becoming a teacher. This year students worked with elementary students at Prospect.

JOGS is designed to teach students how to go about getting a job.

To Help Students Grow
Another Trip to State

Under the leadership of President Gerald Ford, it was another exciting season for the Shaw High Speech Team. This year we were pleased to have several members from the class of 1994. Making outstanding contributions were Honey Bell-Bey, Candace Taylor, and Sharif Bilal. Our trip to the NFL Qualifying District will be remembered for the blizzard that kept us confined to the Youngstown motel for two days. Lots of cards and scavenger hunts!

At the State Tournament, Shaw once again proved we are the best! Sophomores Monica Mitchell and Jason Johnson advanced to quarter-finals in Oratorical Interpretation.

Senior Donna McGee advanced to semi-finals with her moving prose poetry program and, the "Duet Team from Heaven," seniors Charita Coats and Marla Clinkscales advanced to the finals and thrilled us all by placing fourth in the state.

Also bringing honor to Shaw was Charita Coats who placed second in the Sons of the American Revolution Oratory Contest. Donna McGee has earned the Degree of Special Distinction with the National Forensic League. Honey Bell Bey won second place in the WZAK Black History Rep Contest. Congratulations to all!

The Cardinal Approach and the Shuttle Yearbook are the official publications of Shaw High School. Both are credit classes although the yearbook meets eighth period.

The Cardinal Approach comes out on a monthly basis and is eagerly awaited by homeroom students and teachers. All want to know who the student of the month is or the teacher. Most importantly, we want to find out Cardinal Birds answer to life’s pressing problems. M. Tolbert is the advisor.

The yearbook comes out in June. Seniors are anxious to see cap & gown photos and the year in review. Ms. McCarthy is the advisor. Chanel Peoples and Roshelle Moore were the 91 editors.

The Year of 1991

The school year is over. The students have gone. In the end, 1990-1991 was a year like any other. Good things happened as did bad. There was happiness for some, sorrows for others. It will all begin again in September and we’ll still believe: “It Only Gets Better With Time”

Even before students take Economics classes at Shaw, we are familiar with the commercial world. As teenagers, we can see many products and services geared especially towards our needs and personalities. From planning our spring breaks to getting an after school snack to finding the perfect, prom dress, we as students, depend on the business community.

There are many places to go when we want to spend, from the stores on Euclid, downtown at Tower City or the Galleria or the local malls such as Severance, Randall Mall, Euclid Square and with 480 Great Northern.

This is the section of the book which will help us remember where we went to get haircuts or hamburgers, pizzas, manicures and food.

And when we look through these ads remembering where our friends worked, or a place that was just helpful, we’ll also see the many different businesses that cared enough to support the Shuttle and the young Shaw Community in general. Without their help, a great deal of this book would not have been possible.

For many years, the East Cleveland Community has supported the yearbook.

Dear Vee Gee,
You are one of God’s special blessings and we thank him for sending you to enrich our lives. We're so proud to be your parents, from conception to birth; from first tooth to first step; from pre-school to now and the future; through fears, pain and tears to laughter and happiness; but what we hold most dear is when Jesus made the change in your life at the age of three. We are so glad God chose you for us! It gives us joy to see you reaching out for your own special star. It has been worth it all. The best advice we can give you now is found in II Chron. 15:3 ...

Stay with God.
We Love you,

Colophon

The 1991 Shuttle Yearbook was put together by the 8th period Publications class of Shaw High School. The first few weeks that we met were spent brainstorming for a theme. "It Only Gets Better with Time" was finally chosen. Angelina Dudley designed the cover. A total of 250 books were printed by the Jostens/Hunter plant in Winston-Salem, North Carolina. For the first time in memory, a dye cut endsheet was used.

The basic print used was Times Roman, although others were used for variation such as Venture Script, Snell Roundhand and Busorama.

Angelina Dudley's cover is a gold foil, black ink silk screen on red. Kim Johnson, Felita Lawlah, Laquisha Jones, Leslie Tatum, Roshelle Moore and Demisha Whittaker deserve a special commendation for contracting ads.

We extend our thanks to our rep, Steve Erickson for his help and concern. We also wish to thank Mr. Steve Lloyd for meeting with us early in the year and to Ms. Pamela Smith for helping us pay off last year's book.

ALL SHAW STAFF deserve a special commendation for their help and assistance in putting this book together. For those people who arranged for their own group and or sport shot we are especially grateful.

Thanks to Oliver Hunley for his photographic assistance and nurturing and to Wayne Haynes and parent, Alonzo Winston for their pictures. Thanks to Bonnie O'Leary for the help with her typewriter - we don't have one except for mine!

The 1991 staff faced many difficulties including a late start and an early deadline. Those who had the patience and wherewithal to remain for the year showed great SHAW SPIRIT and Proved - IT ONLY GET'S BETTER WITH TIME!
